Big Steel's Price Hike Called 'Irresponsible'

Machinists Seek Study On Profits

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — The head of striking airline machinists urged the Senate today to investigate the profits made by the five struck companies before voting on mandatory back-to-work legislation.

In a telegram to every senator, Roy Siemiller, president of the International Assn. of Machinists (IAM) drew special attention to announcement by Trans World Airlines increased its profits 22 per cent in the first six months of this year.

Eastern Air Lines, also hit by the 28 day strike, reported a 12 per cent profit increase for the first half of 1966.

Despite Siemiller's move, Senate leaders indicated that a compromise bill which would order the machinists back to their jobs may pass before nightfall.

Senate Democratic and Republican leaders joined today in backing a compromise plan that would have Congress send striking airline mechanics back to work for a month, and empower President Johnson to keep them there for five more.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said they will be among the sponsors of that proposal.

"There are some people who don't want any legislation but I don't think they'll drag it on," Mansfield said as the Senate opened its third day of debate on strike measures.

The compromise proposal would divide strike-stopping responsibility between Congress and the President in these three steps:

1. Congress would order the strikers back to their jobs for 30 days.

2. The President could appoint a special airlines dispute panel to serve as mediators in contract bargaining. This action would freeze the situation and keep the men on their jobs for another 60 days.

3. If an agreement is not worked out in that period, the President could expand the panel's efforts and the back-to-work freeze for another 90 days.

"This is a proposal that seems to have the greatest amount of support," said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who helped turn it out yesterday in a hectic series of cloakroom conferences and later described the compromise to newsmen.

BOATS HIT OFF MARIN; ONE DEAD

An elderly San Francisco man died of injuries received today in the collision of two boats in Racoon Straits between Tiburon and Angel Island.

The victim was tentatively identified from papers on his body as Mateo Pacini, about 66 years old.

A companion, Pedro Orosco, 65, also of San Francisco was taken to Marin General Hospital, where he was being treated for a leg injury and possible head and shoulder injuries. His condition was said to be fair.

SMALL BOAT

The two men were fishing in a small boat, rented from Clipper Yacht Sales of Sausalito when around noon they were rammed by a large power cruiser, according to Charles E. Masten, acting city manager of Sausalito.

Their boat was shattered and submerged.

The man thought to be Pacini was plucked from the water by a Coast Guard helicopter and given mouth-to-mouth resuscitation en route to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco, where was reported to have died.

CUTTER RESCUE

Orosco, rescued by a Coast Guard 40-foot cutter, was taken to the landing ramp next to Zack's restaurant in Sausalito, and transferred by United Ambulance to Marin General Hospital.

The identity of the power cruiser reported to have rammed into the two fishermen was not known earlier this afternoon.

Sausalito Police Officer Ben Barrett said the accident was first reported to his department as a hit-run case.

LBJ Economic Aide Says Talks Spurned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House labeled as "irresponsible" today the moves of price-boosting steel producers, complaining they acted without talking over the situation with the government beforehand.

A statement was put out at the White House in the name of Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers.

In response to a question, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said it would be fair to assume that Johnson discussed the matter with Ackley before the statement was issued.

A short time earlier, U.S. Steel, the giant of the industry, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. had joined the parade of other firms which have announced price increases since Tuesday.

Ackley's statement did not flatly put an inflationary tag on the announced price increases. Moyers, when asked if the administration did deem it inflationary, insisted that Ackley is "very concerned about the impact of these increases on the economy and on the goods that utilize steel."

WIRES REVEALED

Ackley said that immediately after Inland Steel announced on Tuesday its plans to raise prices, he wired each of the other 12 largest steel companies to "urgently request that your company take no action prior to discussion with the government."

The economist said the first four firms to follow Inland's lead acted "without the prior discussion which I requested."

"In my view, the action of these companies can only be characterized as irresponsible. They were unwilling even to hear the government state the public interest in this matter," he said.

Inland's action was followed yesterday by Jones and Laughlin and Armco. Then Pittsburgh Steel Co. and National Steel Corp. acted earlier today.

NO 'PRIDE'

Ackley said, in words reminiscent of President John F. Kennedy's denunciation of a price increase by U.S. Steel several years ago, "This is not an hour in which this business leadership of America can take pride."

All the increases were essentially the same $3 for prime grade hot and cold rolled sheet

They Played Dead As Reds Swarmed Over

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. 1st Air Cavalry troopers today reached a blood-soaked clearing in the Ia Drang River Valley where a lost platoon of 26 Americans fought almost to the last in an epic stand against swarms of Communists. Nine survived by playing dead.

It was a small and dramatic incident in the vast scope of Operation Paul Revere in which the air cavalrymen have killed an estimated 397 North Vietnamese regulars in two days of vicious fighting in the Central Highlands 225 miles north of Saigon.

HANOI REGULARS

The battle has pitted more than 10,000 Americans of the 1st Air Cavalry and the 25th Infantry divisions against a force of Hanoi regulars estimated up to 8,000 men. The 25th Division had killed 718 in the operation which began in May. The cavalrymen took up the battle two days ago.

In the air war giant B-52 strategic bombers hit Communist supply dumps and gun positions in the demilitarized zone (DMZ) between North and South Viet Nam for the third time this week. The Communists have used the zone as a refuge from American attacks and to infiltrate an entire division into South Viet Nam.

MASSIVE ARMADA

A spokesman said a massive armada of Air Force, Navy and Marine planes struck the coastal areas of North Viet Nam yesterday, concentrating on the antiaircraft guns whose fire is so intense pilots have said it "looked like a moving picture."

But it was the story of the lost platoon that brought the war close to those in the rear lines and showed the ferocity of the fighting in the jungled mountains where North Vietnamese troops have infiltrated almost at will into the South.

The last message from the reconnaissance platoon from Alpha Company, 2nd Battalion,

Japanese Oppose 12-Mile Limits

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government's fishery agency said today Japan would continue to oppose U.S. extension of its territorial limit to 12 miles.

A fishery agency spokesman reiterated the Japanese position in commenting on a report that the Soviet Union has told the United States it will stay out of 12 mile limit off the U.S. coastline.

The spokesman said Russia claims a 12-mile territorial right and its assurance to the United States was no surprise.

Monk Burns Self

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A 50-year-old Buddhist monk made an offering to Buddha by burning himself in front of a pagoda yesterday in Toungoo, 160 miles north of here, the newspaper Guardian reported today.

Apprentice Flees East Germany

LUENEBURG, Germany (AP) — An 18-year-old apprentice mason early today made good his second attempt to flee from East to West Germany, customs officials reported.

They said the youth told them he had been arrested by East German border soldiers last year in the restricted border area and spent four weeks in a Communist jail. This time he was undetected as he swam across a body of water dividing East from West Germany. Other details were not disclosed.

Explosion Kills Four Firemen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Four firemen were killed and at least three injured today when a series of explosions rocked the Metallurgical, Inc., plant in an industrial area on the city's West Side.

First hospital reports had five dead.

The fire apparently was under control when explosions started in the one-story brick building. Fifteen firemen were reported inside at the time.

It was not known what caused the explosions.

Brain Experts Called In; Police Check Goof-Balls In Sniper Case

AUSTIN (UPI) — The brain of Charles J. Whitman will be taken to a medical institute, where specialists from throughout the country will gather to try to find out why he went on his murderous rampage.

Dr. Coleman de Chenar, the pathologist who performed the autopsy on Whitman's body after his Monday shooting spree which killed 15 persons and wounded 33, said the conference had been ordered by Texas Gov. John Connally.

"We are going to try to determine how and why a person might act like that," De Chenar said today.

While De Chenar and Justice of the Peace Jerry Dellana talked with newsmen in a special conference, state chemists examined Whitman's blood for traces of dexedrine—goof balls—and alcohol.

Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell called today's grand jury investigation "routine procedure," but said the jurors are going to examine the police file on the case, notes found near the bodies of 25-year-old Whitman's mother and wife — his first two victims — and developed film.

The developed film shows nothing but family scenes.

Several dexedrine tablets were found in a bottle in the trunk he used to take his arsenal Monday up to the University of Texas tower from which he fired 80 minutes with high-powered rifles, wounding 33 persons in addition to the 15 killed.

Whitman, the seed of mass murder apparently in his mind, visited the university tower 10 days before he used it as his his sniper's lair.

A signature found yesterday in the rigstration book of the First National Bank in Dallas also indicated Whitman visited the 50-story building's observation tower last Thursday—only four days before he killed 15 persons.

The observation tower is walled with thick glass. Guard Frank T. Owens said a sniper would have had to break holes in the glass. There are two higher floors, filled with machinery, he said, but the doors are kept locked.

At Lake Worth, Fla., the father of sniper Whitman blamed a University of Texas physciatrist today for not stopping his son from committing the nation's worst mass murder.

"I blame the psychiatrist that he went to more than anyone else in the world," Charles A.

Germans Identify Shot-Down Pilot

BERLIN (AP) — An East German weekly army newspaper today identified Capt. Murphy Neal Jones of Baton Rouge, La., as the first U.S. airman shot down in the vicinity of the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

In an article written for "Volksarmee" (People's Army) by Eduard Claudius, former East German ambassador to North Viet Nam, Jones was said to have bailed out from his flak-damaged F105 fighter.

The date was not given. The Pentagon has listed Jones as a probable captive of the North Vietnamese.

Humorist Lennie Bruce Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hip-talking, irreverent comedian Lennie Bruce, often charged with on-stage obscenity and off-stage use of narcotics, has been found dead in his Hollywood Boulevard apartment.

Bruce, 40, was found yesterday in his bathroom. On the sink nearby, officers said, were a syringe, a blackened bottle cap and burnt matches. The cap contained a white crystalline residue.

Bruce

The Los Angeles County coroner's office listed an overdose of narcotics as the probable cause of death. An autopsy has been ordered.

Bruce once said: "People should be taught what is, not what should be."

With that premise and a glossary of hip and four-letter words, he sallied forth into saloons, offbeat clubs and the recording world, bringing a humor branded as "sick."

Flournoy Calls Birch Attack Smear Try

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Republican candidate for state controller, says his Democratic opponent is trying to brand all Republicans with a John Birch smear.

Houston Flournoy, the Republican, was speaking at a news conference yesterday in San Francisco about Democrat Alan Cranston. He called the conference to answer Cranston's public statements that two known Birch Society members had contributed to the campaign of Ronald Reagan, the Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Proposition's Opponent Fails To Write Why

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan said today the assemblyman named to write the ballot argument against a proposal that would raise legislative pay by $10,000 a year has failed to do so.

As a result, Jordan said, only an argument in favor of the plan will be submitted to voters in the booklet on the 17 ballot propositions before the Nov. 8 voting.

Part of the proponents' case will carry the joint backing of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Ronald Reagan, his November foe, in an unusual bipartisan move.

PROPOSITION 1-A

At issue is Prop. 1a, which would amend the State Constitution. Among other things, it provides for annual general legislative sessions similar to Congress, and would abolish the people's power to decide on the pay scale of state legislators.

Instead, the amendment would give this power to the legislature, and if approved would automatically trigger into law starting next year a $16,000 annual salary for California legislators. They now get a base pay of $6,000.

CODE OF ETHICS

The pay raise bill also carries what lawmakers say is the toughest code of ethics for public officials in the nation.

The only vote against the amendment in the Assembly earlier this year was cast by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco. He thus was appointed to write the negative viewpoint of the proposal. But he didn't, and Jordan said that it is too late—the pamphlet is now headed for the state printer.

Part of the argument in favor will be 19 words long and carry the signatures of Brown and Reagan.

A further 500-word statement of support for Prop. 1a will be authored by Sen. Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo; Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO; and Bruce .W Sumner, Orange County judge and chairman of the California Constitution Revision Commission.

October Draft Call Highest Since Korea

Wolden Judge Suggests Shortest Possible Term

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Judge Lewis Drucker is urging only a moderate sentence for Russell L. Wolden, tax assessor who suffered a heart attack after being convicted of bribery.

After sentencing the San Franciscan yesterday to 1 to 14 years in prison, the judge said he would ask the State Adult Authority to demand only a moderate time behind bars. He also said he would recommend that Wolden be held at the state's medical facility at Vacaville.

Wolden was sentenced for accepting money from business firms to reduce the assessed valuation of property in the city and thereby taxes.

Wolden, 56, indicated he planned to appeal the conviction. He remained free on $11,000 bail.

Assessor Case Charges Cut

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The jury has been directed to return verdicts of acquittal on 10 of the 16 charges against former Chief Deputy Assessor John C. Cox.

Superior Court Judge Verne O. Warner issued the order yesterday on motions of Cox's attorney. The charges included bribery, conspiracy and falsification of public records.

Cox still faces charges on four counts of bribery and two of conspiracy.

Judge Warner rejected motions for similar rulings on Cox's remaining counts and on charges against Homer Goehler, Portland, Ore., and Ralphy Yeo, San Mateo. Both are tax attorneys charged with conspiracy.

The defense was expected to begin its case today.

Second Breakfast With A Big W

VIENNA (AP) — Tourists in Vienna still hungry after their morning breakfast can walk into any restaurant displaying a red-white "W" in the window and order a Gabelfruhstuck (second breakfast).

The Gabelfruhstuck, which actually means a breakfast eaten with a fork, will consist of many types of different meats, most of them on the spicy side, or goulash.

Bodies Confirm Loss Of Big British Yacht

FALMOUTH, England (UPI) — Searchers today found bodies and wreckage from the holiday pleasure cruiser Darlwin that sank Sunday during a gale in reef-strewn "ships' graveyard" off the southern coast of England. Thirty-one persons, including seven children were aboard.

Royal Air Force search planes spotted the debris four miles off the Cornish coast and lifeboats rushed to the scene and recovered four bodies.

The wreckage included a small ladder, a yellow life jacket, a small boat and planking which a rescue center spokesman said came from the 45-foot boat. The launch had disappeared during a freak summer gale with 50-mile-an-hour winds.

In a grim note, a rescue spokesman said that the bodies had surfaced at the time and spot which had been predicted last Sunday.

"It takes four or five days for bodies to surface in these temperate waters," he explained, "and they did so in the place where experts predicted."

The wreckage was strewn around a mile square area called Dodman Point. It is an area of hidden reefs and strong currents where local fishermen say many a ship has been holed or sunk.

Boy Held As Killer

ALAMEDA (AP) — Police arrested a 16-year-old boy yesterday in the stabbing death of Mrs. Kimie Turner, 30, of Alameda. Officers would not identify the youth. Mrs. Turner's body-bearing 55 stab wounds — was found in her home last Thursday.

Beatles Draw Fire After Religion Rap

LONDON (AP) — The American producer of the Beatles movie said today the banning of Beatle records by U.S. radio stations will have no effect on his plans to star the mophead musicians again.

"I know all of the boys well," said Walter Shenson. "I also know them as not irreverent and not irreligious. But I also know them to be honest unto themselves."

A number of American radio stations banned the quartet's records after Beatle John Lennon, 25, was quoted as saying:

"Christianity will go. It will vanish and shrink. We're more popular than Jesus now. Jesus was all right, but his disciples were thick and ordinary."

Shenson, a native of San Francisco who lives in London, said he will make the third Beatle film in London in January.

Maureen Cleave of the London Evening Standard first published Lennon's comment on Jesus and Christianity on March 4. It was ignored until an American magazine picked it up for its September issue.

PROGRESS ON PUERTO SUELLO HILL

A few holes in the ground visible in this aerial photo show mark progress in the Puerto Suello tunnel, which runs parallel to, and left of, highway 101 in the photo. The Northwestern Pacific Railroad faces a deadline to have the tunnel open by Dec. 31. Work on the tunnel, which collapsed in a fire on July 20, 1961, began last month. Housing Bill Squeaks Past Major Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders hope to nail down a narrow victory today and pass a civil rights provision that would ban racial discrimination by persons in the business of selling or renting housing.

The open housing section of the administration's 1966 rights bill survived yesterday a sharp challenge by a one-vote margin — with the deciding vote on a controversial amendment cast by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., presiding at the time, to break a 179-179 tie.

The amendment removed from the reach of the bill individual home owners and owners of small rental units up to four-family size who live in the dwelling themselves — and any real estate agent they engage to handle the sale or rental of their property.

Fire Contained In Sierra Hills

VISALIA (AP) — A stubborn 150-acre grass and brush fire set by lightning in the Sierra foothills was contained last night by 200 fire fighters and aerial tankers.

Full control was expected today, said a spokesman for the Division of Forestry.

The blaze, near Three Rivers, broke through fire lines Tuesday after it had been contained and raced out of control, threatening to cross the south fork of the Kaweah River into Sequoia National Park.

More men were added, and officials said they were able to surround it and prevent it from growing

No Applications For Migrants

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Sources in the Mexican Interior Department said here yesterday the United States has not yet applied for 6,000 migrant workers for California.

The sources commented on receipt of a report from Washington that Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz had approved admission of up to 6,000 Mexican farm workers for California tomato harvest.

Whitman Jr. said. "More than anyone, even myself.

"The only thing I'll think until my dying day is that I had a sick son," he said.

Dr. M. D. Heatly, a psychiatrist at the school interviewed young Whitman in March but did not report to authorities his statement that he sometimes felt like "going up on the tower with a deer rifle and start shooting people."

The elder Whitman, 47, in an interview in the gun-lined study of his home, speculated on how his son developed the tumor.

"He had an accident in Guantanamo when he was a Marine," the father said. "He drove a jeep off a cliff. He had a gash in his leg and he was hit in the head.

"We feel that this was one of the causes that may have started the tumor," he said.

No Major Injuries In Plane Crash

The pilot, Charles F. Williams, 41, of San Jose, told officers he lost power on the final approach for a landing at San Jose Municipal Airport and the plane stalled.

It hit three trees at about 65 miles an hour and crashed in soft dirt back of the National Guard Armory.

RAF Made Mistake In Sinatra Landing

LONDON (UPI) —The Royal Air Force admitted yesterday it made a mistake when it allowed the private airplane bringing honeymooners Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow to London to land at Northolt RAF base well outside the city.

A Labor member of Parliament asked the government to explain why the Sinatra jet was allowed to land Sunday at the RAF base instead of London Airport. The undersecretary of defense for the RAF, Merlyn Rees, replied that civil aircraft weighing up to 12,500 pounds were permitted to land at 60 RAF airfields in the United Kingdom.

"Casualties heavy . . . for God's sake, get us out of here . . . can't talk anymore . . . got to shoot." Then silence. Later: "They're coming at us from everywhere . . ."

The platoon was part of the massive U.S. force sweeping the Ia Drang Valley region in Operation Paul Revere. U.S. spokesmen said the reinforcements who reached the clearing today found 46 dead Communist troopers and signs that other bodies had been dragged away.

The American military command in Saigon reported today 99 Americans were killed in action during the week ended July 30, raising to 4,539 the number of U.S. combat deaths in the war. Another 534 Americans were wounded.

South Vietnamese troops suffered 200 combat fatalities during the same period while other allied forces—from Australia, South Korea and New Zealand—had 12 killed and 21 wounded.

U.S. spokesmen placed the Communist toll at 1,153 dead and 89 captured.

American bombing appears to have halted oil shipments to Haiphong which once handled 95 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum imports, it was disclosed today in Washington.

Informed sources said Communist bloc tankers have steered clear of Haiphong since the first bombing of oil installations there, and at

Columbia Gazette To Publish Again

SONORA (UPI) —The Columbia Gazette, which closed a few years after the Gold Rush died out, will resume publication Saturday in Columbia State Historic Park.

The California Department of Parks has rebuilt the old Gazette building with a $12,000 donation from the California Newspaper Publishers Association and equipped it with 29th Century printing presses.

The newspaper will be published for visitors to the park, four miles north of here. It will attempt to keep the Gold Rush-era flavor of its predecessor.

STEEL and strip and $2 for secondary grades of the same products.

Leslie B. Worthington, U.S. Steel president, said in announcing the "Big Steel" decision that he felt the increases "will not have a significant impact on the users of steel."

The 2.1-per cent price increases by the steel firms could add to the strain on the administration's wage-price guidelines which visualize relatively stable prices.

Striking airline machinists last weekend rejected a settlement which would have meant a 6 to 7 per cent wage increase, well above the 3.2 per cent standard fixed by the guideline.

There was talk on Capitol Hill of a possible investigation should the steel price increases stand. But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said, "The Democrats would do better to investigate the inflationary policies of the Johnson-Humphrey administration."

Republican leaders have said they plan to make increased living costs a prime issue in the fall congressional election campaign. So far, no leading Republican has urged a rollback of the announced steel price hikes.

Armco said the hikes would increase the cost of an automobile by only $3, a refrigerator by 28 cents and a clothes dryer by 15 cents.

Council Refuses To Allow Dance Near Riot Scene

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Viet Day Committee accepted "under protest" today the city council's refusal to allow a Friday night street dance in a congested area near the University of California campus.

The VDC decided yesterday to hold the dance on Channing Way, one block from Telegraph Ave., where a riotous demonstration occurred in April.

The antiwar group recently held a victory rally on the same site to celebrate a municipal judge's ruling that the ordinance under which police broke up the April meeting was unconstitutional.

The city council, in rejecting the VDC request, gave the group a choice of three sites, including Channing Way.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary Williamson Dies At 66

Mrs. Mary Alice Williamson, long time resident of Novato, died yesterday in a local hospital, apparently the victim of a heart attack. She was 66.

A native of Kansas, she had lived at 611 Davidson Street, Novato, for the past 22 years. She was active in church work and still taught a Sunday School class. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Novato.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Betty A. Burger of Greenbrae and Mrs. Elva L. Hinshaw of San Rafael; three sons, Milo F. Housh of Sacramento, Edward L. Housh of Castro Valley and Darryl R. Housh of Novato; two brothers, Charles W. Perry of Winchester, Kans. and Harold Perry of Kansas City, Kans.; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Chapel of Marin Funeral Home in Novato. Interment will be in Marin Memorial Gardens in Novato.

MRS. ROSS

MONTEREY (UPI) —Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Eve Ross, artist, actress and former wife of author Henry Miller. She was 44.

She was stricken early Sunday at the Big Sur home of her fourth husband, sculptor Harry Dick Ross, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Carmel Community Hospital

A talented painter, costume designer and etcher, Mrs. Ross was a Hollywood actress before marrying Miller in December, 1953. She divorced him in June, 1962, and married Ross.

MANUEL QUINTAL

Requiem Mass for Manuel Quintal, 46, of Sausalito, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Star of the Sea Church, Sausalito.

Rosary will be recited tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, Sausalito. Friends may meet at the chapel at 9:45 a.m. tomorrow before the Mass. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Quintal died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

CLEMENS DENNE

Requiem Mass was offered today in Santa Rosa for Clemens John Denne of Sonoma Valley, step-father of Mary June Vukovich of Corte Madera.

Denne, 53, died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital. He was a retired Navy lieutenant, and a member of Jack London Post 489, American Legion; Bear Flag Post 1943, Veterans of Foreign Wars, General Hap Arnold Chapter 62 of Disabled American Veterans, Sonoma Valley Lions Club and Retired Officers Assn.

He is survived by his wife, Lois Denne of Boyes Hot Springs, his step-daughter and a step-son, Richard Lockett of San Francisco, his brothers, Joseph S. Denne of Covina and John L. Denne of West Covina, two sisters, Madeliene Hofer and Marie Talbert, both of Baltimore, Md. and three grandchildren.

Burial was in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

HERBERT ANDRON

Herbert Andron, a San Francisco liquor salesman, died yesterday at his Sausalito home at 51 George Lane, victim of a heart attack.

Andron, according to his wife, Mrs. Bernice Andron, had a permanent heart condition. He suffered a disability during a series of bombing raids while he was a soldier in Europe in World War II.

Mrs. Andron said her husband narrowly missed death when he was to return to the United States aboard a ship leaving from Liverpool, England, during the war. The ship was sunk outside Liverpool and 2,000 men were lost, she said. Andron would have been aboard the ship but for a mixup in his papers.

A native of New York City, Andron lived in California 30 years and in Sausalito six years. He worked 20 years as a salesman for Rathsen Brothers Liquors, San Francisco.

Surviving are his wife, a real estate broker with Sol Langsam in Sausalito; a brother, David Andron of Los Angeles, and a sister, Elaine Shippenberg of New York.

Funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sinai Memorial Chapel in San Francisco. Entombment will be at Portals of Eternity, Colma.

HAZEL SHAFSKY

Requiem Mass for Hazel Shafsky of Fort Bragg, sister of Elvira Dahl of Fairfax, will be offered Saturday at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church in Fort Bragg.

She died Tuesday at a Fort Bragg hospital. She was a native of California, and was owner-manager of the Ben Franklin Store in Fort Bragg until she retired in 1963.

She is survived by her sons, Mero Shafsky of Fort Bragg and Sam Shafsky of Anchorage, Alaska; two daughters, Helen Holmes of Sacramento and Joan Kolesar of Phoenix, Ariz., five sisters, Mrs. Dahl, Florence Richmond of Seattle, Wash., Veronica Dixon of Fort Bragg, Kathleen Preston of Medford, Ore. and Lorretto Merritt of San Diego, and 23 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the chapel of the Cannarr-Fairlee Funeral Home, Fort Bragg.

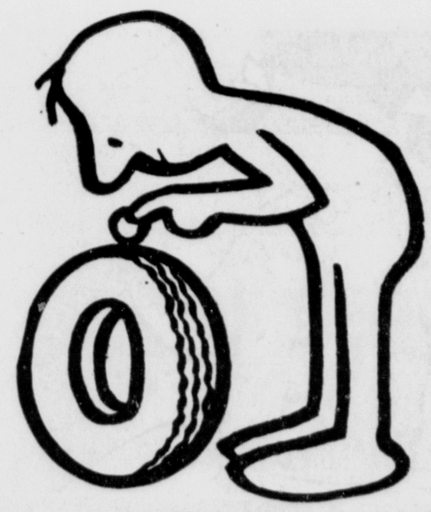
Take our penny tire test. It won't cost you a cent.



In fact, we'll even give you a penny to take this simple safety exam. Here's how you do it:

Look closer. It's 1/16" from the top of his head to the edge of the penny. That's minimum tread depth for safe tires. Anything less is even illegal in some states.

Ready? Insert the penny, Mr. Lincoln's head first, into the grooves on your tires. If you see the top of his head, there's not enough rubber between you and the road.

If your tires don't pass, take our Tire Value Calculator quiz. Just answer seven easy questions about your driving habits. Your score tells which new BFG tire suits you best, costs you least. And we won't talk you into spending a penny more.

So you see, you're money ahead by taking our penny tire test, whether you pass it or not.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Most Marin Schools Feature Smaller-Than-Average Classes

Fourteen of Marin's 20 school districts operating elementary schools last year had smaller average classes than the statewide averages for districts in the same size groups.

So did three of the four Marin districts operating high schools.

The average class size in Marin's districts increased as the size of districts increased—as it did statewide and nationwide.

Marin has five elementary school districts in the smallest size group listed by CTA: under 100 enrollment. The statewide average class size for this group was 17.3 pupils. Three of Marin's four districts in the group—Point Reyes, Union and Lincoln—had just nine pupils per class. Nicasio and Laguna both had 18 pupils per class.

Point Reyes, Union, Lincoln and Laguna are all one-room school districts. A check of the CTA figures shows that the 72 one-room school districts in California averaged 14.8 pupils per class. Nicasio is a two-room district. The 78 two-room districts in the state averaged 17.2 pupils per class. Slightly larger districts that were still under 100 enrollment pushed the average for the entire group up to 17.3.

NEXT DIVISION in the CTA report was composed of districts with 100 to 499 pupils. Marin has four of these: Bolinas-Stinson, Lagunitas, Tomales Bay and West Marin. The statewide average class size for this group was 25.9. All four Marin districts were below this, West Marin having 24.3 pupils per class; Lagunitas, 24; Tomales Bay, 22.9, and Bolinas-Stinson, only 15.5.

Three Marin schools were in the 500 to 999 enrollment group: Fairfax, Ross, and Sausalito. Only Fairfax, with 29.1 pupils per class, exceeded the state average for this group of 27.6. Ross had 24 pupils per class; Sausalito, 23.9.

All three Marin districts in the 1,000 to 1,999 enrollment group were below the state average, which for this group was 28.6 pupils per class. Reed District had 27.2 per class; Kentfield, 26.6, and Larkspur, 24.8.

In the 2,000 to 3,999 enrollment group, two of three Marin districts exceeded the state average class size. The state average was 28.6. Dixie District classes averaged 29.7, and those in Mill Valley, 29.3. The third district in this group, San Anselmo, had only 26.5 pupils per class.

MARIN'S TWO biggest districts fell within the group of unified or common-administration districts with 4,000 to 9,999 elementary enrollment, in which the state average was 29.1 per class. Marin's biggest elementary district, San Rafael, was below this average with 28.3 pupils per class. Novato Unified School District's elementary classes exceeded it with 30.2.

Tomales High School District is one of 30 high school districts with enrollment of 100 to 499. The statewide average for high schools in his group was 21.6 students per class. Tomales High classes averaged only 18.6 students.

Tamalpais High School District is one of 20 with enrollment between 4,000 and 9,999. This group as a whole averaged 28 students per class; the Tam district averaged 26.9.

San Rafael High School District and Novato Unified District both fall in the classification of unified or common administration districts with 4,000 to 9,999 high school enrollment. The average here was one-tenth of a student higher than in high school districts of the same size: 28.1. San Rafael was below this with an average class size of 26.8; Novato was above it with an average of 29.4.

Novato and Dixie are both particularly fast-growing districts. Both are "impoverished districts" under state formula, dependent largely on state loans for new school buildings. The state formula is such that a district cannot project its growth far ahead to qualify for loans; it must show immediate need. Thus, building capacity in such districts customarily lags behind growth.

Fairfax and Mill Valley additionally have experienced trouble in recent years getting voter approved of bond issues and state loans for new schools. This has thrown their building programs off schedule, with consequent increase in class size.

NICASIO and Laguna Schools, though a fraction of one pupil above the state average for schools their size, still have small classes—well below the 25 pupils that the California Teachers Assn. regards as a norm.

Speakers Stolen From Festival

Six hours before the production was to start, James Schroeder of the production staff discovered that two high fidelity speakers had been stolen from trees near the stage at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. A quick call to the other dramatic group brought the loan of a substitute speaker.

The speakers, valued at $400, have not yet been located. Ross police, who failed to make any public disclosure of the theft, said yesterday they are "still investigating." The borrowed speaker was returned to the Festival Theater after the Saturday show, and the Shakespeare Festival rented new speakers to continue their performances.

Thirteen Marin Men Enlist In Air Force

Thirteen Marin men enlisted in the Air Force last month, and a San Rafael registered nurse, Mrs. Gail Walsh, applied for a captain's commission in the Air Force. Mrs. Walsh applied under a program which recruits married nurses who have no dependents under 18.

Ronald Root of Ignacio, a prior serviceman, re-enlisted for assignment overseas with the 1st Mobile Communications Group.

Labor Aide Claims Reagan-NAM Deal

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The National Assn. of Manufacturers has pledged financial support to Republican gubernatorial candidate Ronald Reagan, according to a California AFL-CIO official.

Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the labor group made the claim at headquarters for the California Labor Federation convention which opens next week.

Pitts said a series of top secret conferences were held last weekend with Reagan and the "right-wing executive director"" of the NAM at Lake Tahoe. He identified the director as Richard Cornuelle, San Mateo who operates out of New York City.

He said also that an armed private detective patrolled the private home where the conferences were held.

"In the secret huddle," Pitts said, "the agenda included NAM blessing for a Reagan presidential effort in 1968, coast-to-coast financing for his current campaign for governor, and stepped up attacks on social security."

Pitts added that Cornuelle also holds the position of secretary-treasurer of the Foundation for Voluntary Welfare, an organization which Reagan supported.

Pitts, when informed that a spokesman for Reagan had confirmed the meeting with Cornuelle but had denied the nature of the discussion or the presence of an armed guard, said: "Reagan's denial on all counts are phony. He made a deal with the NAM and it was made while an armed guard patroled the grounds . . ."

The Reagan spokesman said "there was no effort to keep away intruders." He confirmed that Cornuelle was at the two meetings adding that he earlier wrote a book, "Reclaiming the American Dream," in which he discoursed on involving the private sector of society in helping to solve the country's problems.

"This is the same approach Reagan has," the spokesman said, adding that the two men discussed how to put these concepts into practice.

The spokesman said there was no discussion of a presidential effort by Reagan. "This is the usual Democratic effort to pin the presidential stepping stone thing on a Republican candidate."

However, the spokesman said he did not know whether Reagan had narrated a film financed by the Volker Fund, with which Pitts said Cornuelle was identified before taking over the leadership of the NAM.

Overstuffed Diet May Hurt People's Teeth

HAMBURG, Germany (CSS) — Cavities? You may suffer from "fat" teeth.

Animal experimenters reported here at the Seventh International Nutrition Congress could explain why underfed people often have surprisingly good teeth, while the well-fed populations of the world are seriously afflicted with tooth decay.

FEEDING FIND

Dental investigators have given little attention to fats in teeth because they account for only about 1 per cent of the total weight, but Dr. Robert S. Harris, director of the Oral Science Laboratories of the department of nutrition and food science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. Salil K. Das, a staff member, experimented with diets of rats and discovered a difference in the teeth of underfed and well-fed animals.

Undrfed rats developed "lean teeth with no storage fat, while the teeth of well-fed rats contained as much storage fat as they did non-gyceride lipids that are useful in tooth metabolism. The presence of storage fat could plug tooth passages and hinder tooth metabolism.

Although no correlation with dental cavities was attempted in the MIT study, the researchers predicted that lean teeth are more resistant to decay, or caries, than fat teeth.

ANIMAL STUDY

The reason for the research was that Dr. Harris and his MIT collaborators had recently reported differences in the lipid patterns of the teeth of 16 species of animals. It is not yet clear whether these differences are due to heredity or to diet.

Using weanling rats 21 days old at the start of the present experiment, the researchers compared the affects of unlimited feeding of control groups with a test group given only two-thirds as much food.

Although the amount of metabolically active non-glycerine lipids increased by 40 per cent, no storage fat in the form of glycerides was found in the lean-toothed animals.

Slayer Beats, Chokes Los Angeles Woman

GRANADA HILLS (AP) — A 28-year-old Granada Hills housewife, three months pregnant with her first child, was beaten and strangled, police said, in a slaying similar to that of a teen-aged girl 10 days ago.

The body of Phyllis Black was discovered about 7 p.m. yesterday by her husband, Richard, who was coming home from work.

Officers said there were signs of a struggle and that Mrs. Black had been struck in the face, then strangled, apparently with the belt of a housecoat. The housecoat lay near her nude body, which was found in a hallway.

It was not immediately determined if the woman had been sexually assaulted. An autopsy was planned.

Officers said the house was not ransacked and Mrs. Black's wedding and engagement rings were still on her hand, possibly ruling out burglarly as a motive. Police said they took numerous fingerprints through the house.

The Black home is in a new tract only two miles from where 17-year-old Janice Sorem was found strangled on July 25. Miss Sorem's body was found late at night in a car in a shopping center parking lot. Her murderer has not been found.

Johnson Rebuffed On Bill To Curb Campaign Outlay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee rebuffed President Johnson today by approving a less sweeping bill than he proposed to tighten controls over campaign contributions and spending.

By a 5-4 vote the committee recommended a bill of Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., without even holding any hearings on the legislation Johnson submitted to Congress May 26.

Johnson's bill would have made disclosure requirements concerning campaign financing applicable to primary elections and to state political committees and also would have required Congress members to submit annual reports on gifts of more than $100 and on other outside income from sources other than investments.

None of these features is included in Cannon's bill, which is identical to a measure the Senate passed in 1961 except for a $10 income tax credit for political contributions. Johnson proposed a $100 income tax deduction for campaign donations.

The House took no action on the bill the Senate passed in 1961 and has shown no signs of doing anything about the measure Johnson asked this year.

U.S. Soviets Agree On Space Rules

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union reached broad agreement today on a framework of ground rules to govern man's activities in space, on the moon and on other celestial bodies.

They agreed that space and the planets should be freely accessible to all without distinction, that no state should appropriate any part of them, and that man's conduct in space should be reserved to peaceful purposes and ruled by the concepts of international law and the United Nations Charter.

The accord was reached during four weeks of discussions in the 28-nation legal subcommittee of the U.N. Committee on the Peaceful Use of Outer Space, which went into recess here today.

Freeman Requests Food Price Hike Investigation

NEW YORK (UPI) —Agricultural secretary Orville L. Freeman disclosed today he has asked the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to investigate recent dramatic rises in food prices which he said were unjustified in view of modest increases in farm prices.

Freeman made the disclosure in testimony at City Hall before a special city council committee investigating soaring food prices, especially on staples, in the metropolitan New York area. He said the investigation would answer the question: "Why have food prices increased in some instances two and three times more than the very modest recent farm price increase?"

The cabinet officer indicated deep concern over a three cent a pound jump in bread prices "rather than the one-half cent that farm price increases would justify" and a similar hike in the price of a quart of milk instead of a reasonable one cent increase. He noted that profits of 12 large grocery chains are up 21 per cent over a year ago and profits of food products companies are up 16.5 per cent.

"This investigation will determine exactly where and to whom the consumer pays his food dollar when he buys bread and milk and other food items that make up the market basket," he said.

Swim Registration To Be Held Saturday

Registration for the final session of Tamalpais High School's learn-to-swim program is set for Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. in the boy's gymnasium.

The two week session starts Monday, and will include classes for housewives and tiny tots, announced recreation program director Edward Chavez.

Burglar Steals Stereophonic Set

Theft of a $600 stereophonic set from the home of Robert N. Bliss, 358 Madrone Park Circle, Homestead Valley, was reported by sheriff's officers today.

Deputies said someone apparently entered the unlocked house while Bliss was away. Several record albums and stereo tapes were also strewn about a room, they said.

Herman Van Lokeren, 78 Ridge Road, Fairfax, reported someone stole a large $190 tent he left erected at an Olema campsite. Van Lokeren said he and his family had used the tent, then planned to return and camp again.

Car Burglarized, Camera Stolen

Loss of a $120 camera in a burglary of the automobile of Tilman R. Mager, a visitor from Germany, was reported today by sheriff's deputies.

Mager told officers he parked the locked car in a Muir Woods camp parking lot and left momentarily. He said no forced entry was evident, however.

Paulette B. Mumert, 110 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, told deputies someone, probably juveniles, entered her unlocked home and sorted through a box of jewelry. Nothing was believed taken, however. She said her return probably frightened off the intruders.

Czechoslovaks Boast Of Most Red Cars

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia boasts the highest number of cars per head among the Communist bloc countries.

Sausalito Fetes Poet With Street For Day

Sausalito's Excelsior Lane became "McKuen Way" for today.

The one-day change was to honor former Marin resident Rod McKuen, who visited Sausalito to announce his newly-published book of poetry, "Stanyan Street." McKuen, a song writer and nightclub performer, wrote the song of the same name. His book of poetry includes several poems about Sausalito.

Summer Program Termed Beneficial

Members of the Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Assn. last night agreed that the Summer Neighborhood Youth Program has "really benefited the community." This opinion was expressed to Douglas J. Quiett, acting director, County Community Relations Services, after Quiett explained his program to the association.

Mrs Alex Holloway reported on gardening in Marin City and told members that September is a good month to start pruning and to plant bulbs, it was reported by Mrs. Louise Page, secretary.

Bolinas School Budget Has Lower Tax Rates

Final budget for fiscal 1967 was adopted last night by Bolinas-Stinson Union School District and the tax rate estimated to drop six cents below last year's date.

The budget was set at $137,787 compared with last year's budget of $168,935.

Basic tax rate for both schools is expected to be $1.08 per $100 assessed valuation. Last year's was $1.14.

Total rate for Bolinas is $1.85 which includes 10 cents override plus the 67 cent county-wide equalization tax. Total rate for Stinson Beach is $1.96, which includes an additional 11 cents for bond retirement.

Clerk Arthur E. Carpenter explained the tax rate drop, saying there is an increased assessed valuation and the district is no longer putting aside a reserve for the building addition to Bolinas school.

Trustees announced that the position of kindergarten teacher remains unfilled and that there is an opening for a secretary to the principal. The latter job is for 10 months, five half-days per week, the pay to be $2,110 per year.

Approval was given to a proposed evening adult craft class to be held in September at Bolinas School. Participants will pay for the teacher and, perhaps, the materials. Interested persons may call Karen Collingwood of Bolinae, said Carpenter.

Trustee John Collingwood was selected as salary policy chairman.

Brazil Loaded With Speeders

The first try-out, recently, proved that 95 per cent of the vehicles on the road tested were exceeding the speed limit.

Teacher-Principal Hired By Bolinas School District

Keith Oveson, vice principal of La Vista Junior High School in Hayward since 1963, was hired last night by Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees as teacher-principal.

Oveson, 45, will receive $12,900, a sum of $2,700 above that which Auer received. His contract will begin Sept. 1.

Oveson was principal of an elementary school in the East Bay area prior to working at La Vista Junior High. He is married and has one youngster in college, another in grammar school. The Ovesons plan to live in Western Marin, clerk Arthur E. Carpenter said.

Senior Citizen Housing Appeal Hearing Slated

Appeals filed against a decision of Thomas E. Cordill, Marin County zoning administrator, allowing a use permit for 20 units in the proposed Homestead Valley low-income housing for the elderly, will be heard Monday by the planning commission.

Cordill reduced the number of units in the use permit from 30 to 20. This condition is among the five which were appealed by the Marin County Housing Authority.

The project is planned for nine-tenths of an acre at Montford and Evergreen avenues and Linden Lane.

Granting of the use permit itself has been appealed by John Montgomery of 109 Evergreen Avenue and four other residents. Montgomery states his opposition is on the grounds the land is established for single family houses.

The appeals will be heard during a commission meeting due to start at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Inverness Chorus To Present 'Creation'

Fatherless Family Receives Home

NEW YORK (UPI) —Mrs. Agripino Bonilla has a home now for her 10 children—because of the generosity of thousands of Americans who were touched by their plight.

On March 28 Bonilla, the husband and father, was stomped to death by a Brooklyn teen-aged gang apparently angered because the 46-year-old restaurant porter from Puerto Rico had only a few dollars to give them. He died a few blocks from his apartment.

Yesterday a $29,000 three-family dwelling was given to Mrs. Bonilla by a committee headed by Frederick W. Richmond, a philanthropist who started a drive with $1,000. Contributions poured in from all parts of the United States. The gifts ranged from half a dollar to several hundreds of dollars, Richmond said.

Probation Office Fills Vacancies

Hiring of four deputy probation officers and promotion of two deputies to supervising positions was announced yesterday by Walter H. Busher, county probation officer.

New deputies are Janet McCoy of Mill Valley, a graduate of the University of Oregon; Leamond C. McGriff, San Francisco, a graduate of San Francisco State College; Timothy M. Garthwaite of Berkeley, formerly with the Alameda County probation department, and Lonnie G. Carter, San Francisco, also a San Francisco State College graduate.

Promoted to the posts of supervising probation officers were Jo Rawlins Gilbert and Don Olson, both with the department since 1956.

Busher also said he has accepted resignations of William L. Wollitz Jr. and Herbert Spear as deputies. Both men leave to join the University of Oklahoma's training center for Job Corps personnel, he said.

Four File For Seats On Sanitary Board

One incumbent and three challengers had filed as of this morning for two seats on the Tiburon Sanitary District Board. Deadline was 4:30 p.m. today.

Running Sept. 13 for the four-year terms are Board Secretary James Murray of 2460 Mar East Street, Robert A. Sterling of 2387 Mar East Street, Robert H. Scarth of 2450 Paradise Drive and Edward P. Ward of 2220 Vistazo East Street. Incumbent Randolph J. Esplin has said he will not seek re-election.

TONY'S BIRTHDAY

Singer Says He Loves Hit Bay Ballad

Singer Tony Bennett still loves the song "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" but he didn't sing it at his 40th birthday party in Tiburon last night.

Bennett left his heart and that very familiar song behind when he sang a few songs for about 100 press and radio people in attendance. The cocktail party was hosted by Columbia Records at the Cove Club, 18 Captains Landing.

According to Mrs. Edward E. Forster, co-manager of the Cove apartments, the popular singer ran through some of his other hits during the three-hour party.

The beaming Bennett reportedly denied that he hated the song. "Are you kidding? I love it." That song, which came out four years ago, is number one in Italy, he noted.

Blue-blazer bedecked Bennett cut a two by three foot cake decorated with a scene from the Golden Gate Bridge. Poolside residents of the Cove watched the ritual through a plate glass window that divides the club's bar area.

Bennett has cut a string of successful records for Columbia, which celebrated the birthday and the success with the party.

Rampton W. Harvey is chairman of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee.

Dixie Trustees Vote Record-Size Budget

Trustees of Dixie School District last night adopted a total budget of $2,359,410 for fiscal 1967, an increase of $350,000 over last year's budget.

Approval came after a hearing attended by 12 members of the citizens finance study group.

Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff said today no change was made from the publication budget announced last month.

Total district tax rate is estimated at $3.59, up 86 cents from the tax rate last year. At a special election in April, voters gave approval for a 90 cents increase in maximum tax.

Less than half the increase Goff said, was accounted for by the jump of 300 in enrollment. Another $150,000 will be absorbed by salaries for new teachers.

Dixie school district board also;

1. Approved a change order to its contract with Filippo Construction Co., deleting $1,520 in paving to bring it within the figure allowed by the State Allocation Board for additions to Miller Creek School.

2. Adopted a site utilization plan for the Oak View School, incorporating two classrooms for the trainable mentally retarded for use by the county superintendent of schools.

3. Named seven district teachers as resource teachers: Otto Geiger, Mogens Kristensen, Victor Piltch, Mrs. Anita Shelasky, Miss Daisy Hatten, Jack Klippensteen and Dean Nicholas.

4. Appointed Columbus Partmon as custodian at $411 a month and Joseph Bosche as groundsman and maintenance helper at $489 a month.

Sewer Service Charge Gets No Objections

No objections were raised last night at a sewer service charge public hearing held by Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District. Members approved the $1 a month charge, District Secretary Mrs. Helen Foulkes said today.

Arrangements were made for an "open house" to be held Sept. 25 with emphasis placed on the district's expansion plans, said Mrs. Foulkes.

San Rafael City Hall Christened

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission christened the city's new city hall last night as a meeting place for official city bodies.

Commissioners met in Room 201, a conference room with gold-colored carpeting, because seating has not yet been installed in the council chambers.

Marking the occasion, commissioners presented an engraved plaque, bearing a gavel, to former commission chairman Arthur Feidler Jr. for his service on the commission from 1960 to 1966.

County Seeks Court Test Of Liability On Old Tunnel

A 3,100-foot-long tunnel which has not been used for 30 years will have its day in court soon.

Marin County Board of Supervisors has autorized its legal department to file a court action determining who would be liable for a damage or injury claim arising from the tunnel — the county or local property owners.

The railroad tunnel is under White's Hill west of Fairfax, and is known locally os Woodacre tunnel.

Joseph A. Forest, deputy county counsel, said the department of public works was reluctant to voluntary assume maintenance because of the cost and responsibilities involved.

He added that nearby residents were anxious to have an answer to the liability question before anything serious happens.

Marin Highway Taxes Total $983.5 Million

Marin County's share of state highway users tax funds totaled $983,530.77, State Controller Alan Cranson reported today.

The funds, which for the entire state total $112,601,326, come from taxes on gasoline and diesel fuel, drivers' licenses and registration fees, and other fees for public motor carriers and operators.

Architect Section Set For Festival

There will be a section devoted to drawings and photographic displays of Sausalito architects at the Sausalito Art Festival to be held Sept. 3-5, in addition to arts and crafts exhibits.

This was agreed upon last night at a meeting of the festival committee, Jane Bacher, architectural display chairman, said.

Planned to be included in the exhibit will be drawings of the new Mill Valley library, a photo essay on Sausalito houseboats and the design of the proposed Bridgeway Street widening by Lawrence Halprin.

This section of the show is limited to Sausalito architects. The other aspects are open to all Marin artists.

Entry blanks for participants are available at art supply stores in Sausalito, Mill Valley, San Rafael and at the Torrance Gallery, San Anselmo. The show will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily in downtown Sausalito along Bridgeway.

Novato Police File Auto Theft Charge

David Andrew Coy, 23, alias Edward Joseph Dingman, of Spokane, Wash., was arrested by Novato police last night and booked into Marin County Jail on an auto theft charge. Bail was set at $1,100.

Coy was arrested at Sunset Parkway and Leafwood Drive, Novato, in a car reported stolen on July 26 in San Jose, according to Novato police.

Wilson Price Freeze Push Sparks Mutiny

LONDON (UPI) —Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government today reeled from a mutiny within its parliamentary ranks as it pushed ahead with its controversial economy-controlling prices and incomes bill.

Ruling parliamentary Labor party whips were considering serious action against at least 27 dissident Labor members of Parliament who nearly halved the government's regular majority by abstaining on an opposition party motion yesterday.

The government, which has a majority of 96, overrode the motion after stormy debate by 277 to 225 votes—a 52-vote majority.

The debate was on a Conservative party motion to dismiss a standing committee considering the prices and incomes bill, which would empower the government to enforce a proposed "freeze" on prices and incomes for up to a year. The Tories — as well as many liberal and Labor party MP's—wanted the bill brought before the full House of Commons so the unprecedented freeze could be debated.

By introducing the motion, the Tories outmaneuvered the government and obtained the debate during which they labeled the government-sought freeze powers "totalitarian."

The government easily overrode the motion but was shocked by the reduction of its majority to the lowest point of this Parliament.

Two San Rafael Girls Missing

They are Gail Carol Burns of 81 Golden Hinde Boulevard and Cheryl Lee Murray of 21 De Anza Way.

Their fathers, Arthur G. Burns and Richard Murray, told police their daughters were last seen at 11 a.m. yesterday at their homes. Neither was believed to have any money and only Miss Murray had taken a suitcase and some extra clothing with her.

Parents To Discuss School Situation

A meeting for Mill Valley parents interested in sending their children to Richardson Bay School this fall will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Edna Maguire School.

Participating will be Philip Schneider, new superintendent of Sausalito School District, Dr. Philip Staten Webster, consultant to Mill Valley and Sausalito School Districts, Amil St. Augustine, Mill Mill Valley teacher, and Henry Horowitz, chairman of the interdistrict committee.

Mother Drowns Self, Children

GENEVA, Ohio (UPI) — Authorities tried to determine today why a former WAC typist, whose marriage had broken up, drowned her four small children and committed suicide.

"Pat was always the quiet type who didn't say much," the grief stricken sister of Mrs. Patricia Smith, 24, said in piecing together the tragedy last night.

Volunteers pulled the body of Mrs. Smith from about 16 feet of water in the pond on her father's farm seven miles south of here where she had lived since separating from her husband, Wilbur Smith of Flint, Mich., last January.

The woman's body was found about three hours after the bodies of Keven, 4, Catherine, 3, Kasandra, 1, and Keith, two months, were found floating near the edge of the pond on the John Clay farm.

Sentencing Set For Trespassers

RAMONA (UPI) — Sentencing is scheduled for Sept. 7 in Justice Court for two clergymen and farm labor leader Cesar Chavez, Delano, convicted yesterday of trespassing on a Di Giorgio Corp. vineyard during a labor dispute. The 10 women, two-man jury acquitted eight Mexican grape pickers charged with the same offense.

Found guilty of two misdemeanor counts of trespassing were Chavez, director of the National Farm Workers Assn., the Rev. Wayne Hartmire, Los Angeles, director of the Protestant Ministry of California; and the Rev. Victor Salandini, a Catholic priest of San Diego.

The maximum penalty for one count of trespassing is six months in jail or a $500 fine, or both.

Announcer To Speak On Raft Journey

Bill Dorais, KCBS radio announcer, and his wife, Stella, will address the Regis Club at St. Raphael's Catholic Church at 8:30 p.m. today on their recent raft trip down the Colorado River.

Dorais is also expected to comment on the construction of dams on the Colorado River, a project he opposes.

Brown Advocates Tighter Gun Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Edmund G. Brown has joined President Johnson in calling for immediate enactment of federal gun control legislation.

He promised, meantime, to work for tighter controls in California.

"I have long advocated state and federal controls over the indiscriminate sale of guns to persons who obviously should not possess them," Brown said yesterday in a news release.

He said such controls are not aimed at frustrating sportsmen and gun fanciers but at "persons who lack training, maturity or mental stability and who are capable of inflicting violent injury."

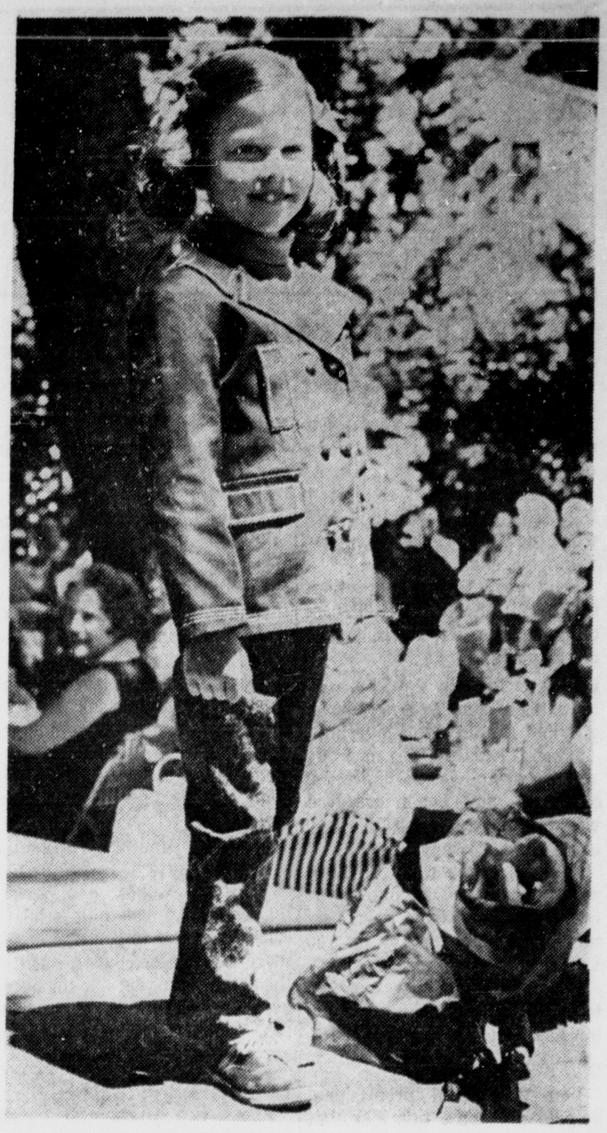
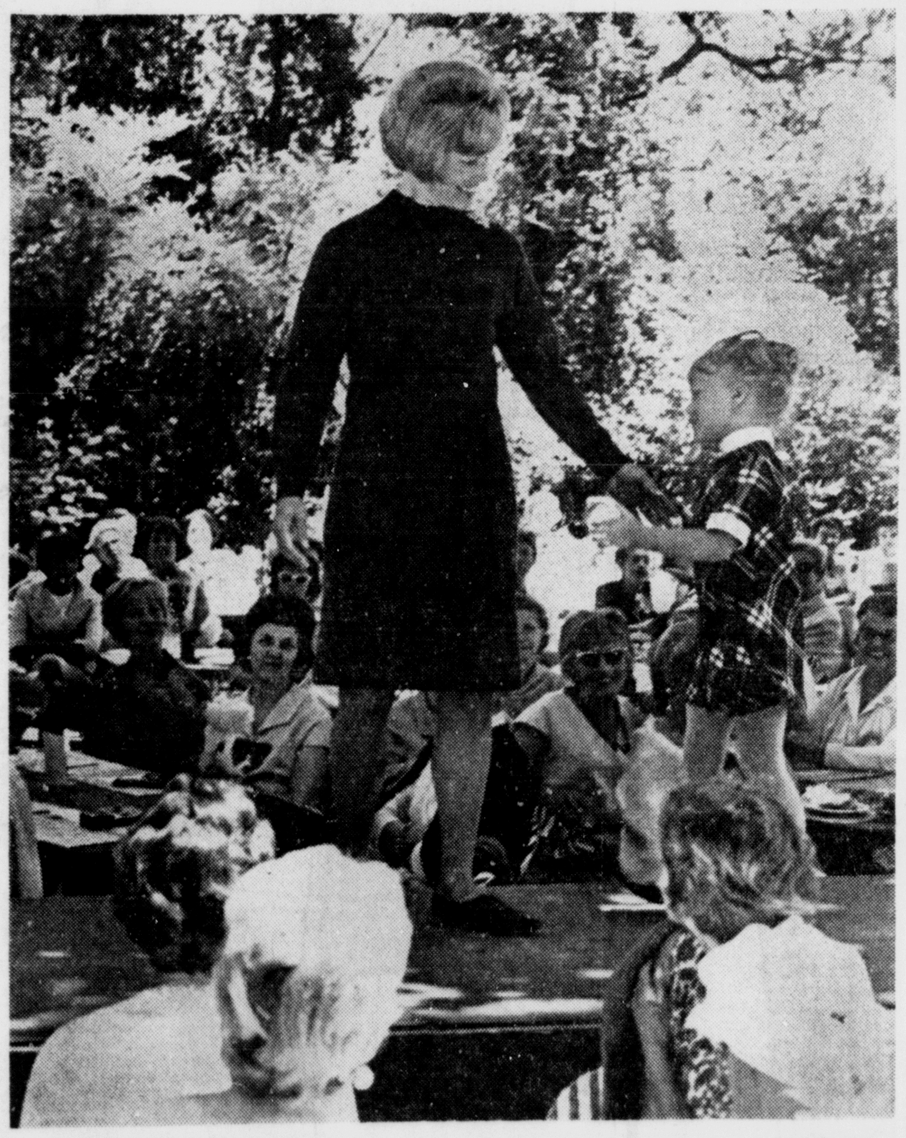
SUNNY SKIES WARMED the setting at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross yesterday at the fashion luncheon sponsored jointly by the Northgate Group, Marin and Novato Branches of the American Assn. of University Women and five chapters of the Children's Home Society of California. Here the model had just removed a dyed rabbit 'fun' fur coat to reveal a two-piece wool dress in black and moss green houndstooth pattern. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)



SUBJECT OF HER father's movie camera was Wendy Gates who looked pert as a pixie in a nautical outfit combining a navy cotton jacket with slim pants patterned in red. Wendy was one of the models for Children's Home Society.

Marin Women



MOTHER AND DAUGHTER models were Mrs. Andrew Stone, who wore an avocado green long sweater dress, and Leslie, making a model's turn in a Highland fling plaid in blue and white. Mrs. Douglas Ascher was general chairman for Children's Home Society.

MRS. MARJORIE MOWAT, president, headed the table for members of the Novato Branch of AAUW. Serving dessert to Mrs. Claude Witzel, left, and Mrs. Mowat are Mesdames Thomas Burford, president of the Jolly Rogers Chapter, and James McConnell.

We don't think we "goofed" — we just bought too many!

Storewide Clearance Prices Prevail on many almost new items . . . and naturally on the ones we bought too many of . . . So take advantage NOW and SAVE in our STOREWIDE AUGUST CLEARANCE.

from Girls' Dept., second level
If You Can Stitch A Pretty Seam, there's some darling shirtwaist and 2-piece dresses on this rack of Junior-Petite sizes . . . all they need is shortening (maybe) that is, if you go in for the 3 inches above the knee bit . . . ⅓ to ½ off will make them cuter than ever.

We're flat on our backs with FLATS and willing to turn over for 3.99 . . . they were up to 6.95 a pair . . . white and summer colors, some Italian imports. Shoe Dept., second level.

"In Your Cups?" Well, in these A to D "cup sizes" by some well known makers of Bras, you'll find some up to 5.95 beauties at only 50c and 1.00.

No Need To Be Topless with the selection to choose from in this group of BRAS in white nylon and spandex . . . famous for fit . . . save quite a bit at ½ price.

from the Girls' Dept., second level
Our Buyer made a "check" too many times across the board on sizes 32 to 38 in JUNIOR Blouses . . . even though they seemed awfully cute for 2.98 and 4.98 at the time, and they are still awfully cute at 1.00 and 2.00.

"Any One For Tennis?" We've only ten left . . . in sizes 7, 9 and 11-Easy-care, drip-dry white ARNEL Tennis Dresses, were 10.98 . . . Yes, it's possible, NOW only 6.00.

Pants Galore—just name it, we have it, Capris, Shorts, Peddle-pushers, clam-diggers, in lots of good colors, in girls, sub-teen and jr. sizes were up to 5.98 . . . So dig in and find a couple good buys at ONLY 10c to 3.00 while they last.

Boutiques, Boutiques, Boutiques . . .
A perfect chance to "gussy-up" your "guest bathroom" or your own, with some darling Boutiques in ceramics and plastics . . . also a few crystal perfume bottles . . . some real precious things if you need them at ½ price . . . (and we don't need them any more.)

We Hope To Be Shiftless . . . We bought a few shifts plus a few Mu-Mus, in Hawaiian and Mexican prints. This was a slight mistake because we aren't a shifty business (or Mu-Mu either). If you need one NOW is the time, and a good selection too, all at ⅓ off to ½ off reg. price.

We skidded and slipped! No, really there are just a few left in broken sizes . . . and they are such lovely lace trimmed half and full slips in our very famous name brands, worth getting at ⅓ off and ½ off reg. price.

Our Buyer says she bought a "TON" of patterned hose in all colors . . . and MILL VALLEY just didn't go for it (and I'm glad). So, buy them NOW for a 1.00 a pair and give them to your friends in other valleys. (Of course, they are better than ever this fall for the "all-together look) from the Ready-to-wear Dept.

Bah-Bah White Sheep, have you any wool? Yes sir, yes sir, a whole rack full . . . of good looking double-knits and wool dresses in favored dark colors, ready to fit into your fall wardrobe at a terrific savings . . . not all sizes, but some good buys if you can finds yours . . . were 25.00 to 49.98, NOW 12.98 to 20.00.

We'll Never Know Why they didn't sell . . . we thought the Henley neckline on these short-sleeved cotton velour shirts were so smart. Oh well! Maybe they'll look smarter at ½ price.

Our Buyer thought there were more small 8 and 10 size girls in Mill Valley . . . BUT—here they are, all 8 and 10 sizes left, trim little Bermudas, well made, good colors, were 4.98 to 12.98 . . . might as well make them ½ price.

Again our Good Buyer slipped overboard for these "Sea Weeds," "Jantzens" and some terribly attractive swim suits by "Elizabeth Stewart" . . . There's still lots of good swim time and anyway they'll be great for next year . . . So get into the swim at ⅓ off.

from the Lower Level . . .
Maybe we've tried to help too much, but these Handy-Dandy helpers really TRY HARDER Pants-dryer, Utility-dryers, Shower-Racks, Belt-bars, up to 1.79 values . . . Take your choice at 49c each.

We thought everybody needed KIRSCH rods (or maybe you just didn't know we had them). We have quite a few left, so, if you can use any of the sizes, you can swing a real deal at ½ price.

We Dipped Too Far at 3.98 . . . perhaps you'd like to try dipping your chips in this little set. A 6 qt. chip bowl, two 5" dip bowls, set in a brass wire holder. An excellent little housewarming gift, and of course, keep one for your own entertaining. Only 2.59 for the whole set.

We've always loved to just look at these beautiful CULVER gold encrusted bar glasses, but after all, we do have to sell them, so here goes . . . Old-fashioned and Highball, reg. 8 for 5.98 to 8.98. A good chance to glamour up your bar with these handsome glasses at only 8 for 3.99 to 5.99.

from the Men's Store, 22 Miller Ave.
Our Buyer was puzzled the day he bought so many JIG-SAW puzzles, which have really run their course by now . . . but there are some dillies left that could keep you busy on a long winter evening (what an elegant family gift) try one at 2.00.

Some cotton knit Henley surfing sport shirts that laid a real lemon with us . . . (were 4.50) Good looking green or blue, or you might think a gold one quite handsome at 2.50

Young "prep" age boys should have gone for these plaid parka-hooded jackets . . . polyester and cotton for easy-care. We thought they were just the thing for over swim suits at the beach . . . we'll swim along, if you will, at ½ price.

HELEN HELP US!

Victim Of Bad Early Marriage Advised To Forget The Past

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teen-age questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us, the Independent-Journal.

DEAR HELEN:

I am engaged to a wonderful guy, but I'm afraid of marriage.

When I was 13, I ran away with an older boy, we lied about our ages, and got married. I wouldn't have done it if I had come from a happy home.

A month after we were married he beat me up and made me lose the baby, and six months after that he ran off and I never saw him again.

I love this man I'm engaged to and want to make him happy, but how can I, if I'm—AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID:

You may need professional help to overcome this fear, but you can help yourself a great deal if you'll realize that no one grows up completely free of bad experiences. Yours may seem the worst to you, but this is only because you dramatize it. What happened years ago should be discussed thoroughly once, then locked in the Age-13 file and ignored as "no longer important."

People who don't learn to blot out painful memories with a thick layer of the good and hopeful present are headed for trouble, and, even worse, they will bring unhappiness to those they love.

Tell me, would you give up driving because you had one accident, or would one mean teacher make you quit school? What happened to you was much more serious, of course, but it's the same principle: one unhappiness can't break a strong person. Conquering it should make her all the stronger.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About two years ago I ran for a class office. I set my campaign up like a real politician's: maybe too well. I made up sheets that showed my views and platform, gave facts about myself, as adults do.

Now the guys and gals think I'm conceited. The guys still bug me, and the word keeps circulating.

Worst part about it is one girl I'd like to go out with almost won't even acknowledge my "hello." I'm pretty sure she thinks I'm a Narcissus.

I can't make a Time Machine and go back and change things, so how can I prove I'm not an—EGOMANIAC

DEAR EGO:

I'd make a wild guess you only think the kids remember, which makes you oversensitive, ill-at-ease and stand-offish, and these traits get you labeled "stuck-up."

Forget about that almost forgotten campaign and start a new one aimed at the girl you like.

Incidentally, the telephone is a good way to create a new image—you lose a lot of self-consciousness when you don't have to worry about your looks or what to do with your excess hands and feet.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have been going with a girl for two years, but she and I don't see each other any more because this summer she met a married man of 21 at work and now they sneak around together. He had to get married and she says he was trapped into it.

She asked me not to tell her parents or his wife so how can I wise up this 16-year-old nut that I love so much?—NO FINK

DEAR NO FINK:

Your 16-year-old nut had better wise up fast before her married friend lands both of them in trouble. She's jail bait.

"Finking" won't be necessary. This kind of news gets around quicker than you can say, "Home for unwed mothers."—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Designer Predicts Longer Skirts Soon

PARIS (UPI) — Long coats may not cover your legs this season, but they'll be in the stores in the fall of 1967. Designer Cristobal Balenciaga featured them in his style show today.

Dior last week also came out with the "Doctor Zhivago" type coats at mid-calf, the rest of the leg covered by boots.

Buyers who saw the Balenciaga collection today said the long coats "definitely are on the horizon now" because the designer, regarded as the king of fashion, gave them his stamp of approval.

But several New York buyers agreed the long coats will not show up in store windows for a year because "it's too soon for women to accept them, and also ready-to-wear for the year already has been ordered in the short length."

As usual, Balenciaga did not invite the press to his opening and will admit journalists a month from now when only the French press will be here. Buyers at today's opening said the parade started with four mannequins in the long coats bordered with fur. Some coats were belted and flaring, others straight and narrow with buttons marching down the front.

One was belted and sported a hood trimmed in lynx fur, buyers said.

Madith Maria Ash Marries Frank Mack At Home Rite

Dr. Philip F. Whitmer performed the double ring ceremony on July 2 uniting in marriage Madith Maria Ash of Corte Madera and Frank Leo Mack of Larkspur. The 1 o'clock ceremony was held at the home of the bridegroom.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley O. Ash of Corte Madera, wore a street length dress of leaf green cotton. Attending were Alice Murphy of Corte Madera, as maid of honor, and Junior Cropp of Concord, as best man. A reception followed the ceremony.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Tamalpais High School. Madith, who also attended College of Marin, is the sister of Richard Ash of Mountain View and Norman Ash of Corte Madera.

Frank is the son of Mrs. Frank Mack of Larkspur and the late Mr. Mack.

He is the brother of Philip Mack of Larkspur and is self employed in San Francisco. The couple is at home in San Rafael.

LAURA JEAN BROWN of Sausalito became the bride of John Frederick Saunders of Eugene, Ore., at Christ Church recently. After a Carmel honeymoon, the couple will live in Portland where the bridegroom is attending University of Oregon Medical School.

Wedding Date Set For Arlene Maffei

A cocktail-buffet party for family members and close friends at the Greenbrae home Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Maffei, was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Arlene Joan, to Jon Sanford Wedereit.

Guests learned that the couple will be wed in November on the 25th wedding anniversary of the bride-elect's parents.

Jon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wedereit of Tiburon. His sisters are Jill and Judith Wedereit of Tiburon.

Arlene is the granddaughter of Mrs. James Maffei of Greenbrae, and the sister of Adrienne, Eugene, and James Maffei, all of Greenbrae.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the College of Marin, attended San Francisco State College. She is employed by Joseph Magnin Co. in San Francisco.

The future bridegroom is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of San Francisco. He did graduate work at San Francisco State College. He is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, a national business honor fraternity. He is a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve at Hamilton AFB, and is employed as a marketing analyst by Shell Oil Co.

ARLENE JOAN MAFFEI will marry Jon Sanford Wedereit on her parents' silver anniversary in November.

A SPRING WEDDING in Texas is on the calendar for Pamela Kay Thompson of Fort Worth and Harry David Flowers of Ross.

Harry Flowers Will Claim Texas Bride Next Spring

Harry David Flowers of Ross will claim a pretty Texan as his bride next spring. The engagement of Pamela Kay Thomson of Forth Worth to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Flowers was announced at a dinner party in Fort Worth, given by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Thomson Jr.

Harry and his fiance are both students at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Tex. The future bridegroom is a graduate of Redwood High School.

Engagement Of Theresa Ford To Stephen Kelso Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William Ford of Corte Madera have announced the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Dunne Ford, to Stephen Charles Kelso of Seattle.

The bride-elect was graduated from Redwood High School and studied at Alliance Francaise in Paris for a year. She is a senior majoring in social work at University of Washington.

Her sisters, Angela, Suzanne, Elizabeth and Patricia, also reside in Corte Madera.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Kelso and the brother of Geoffrey and James Kelso, all of Yakima, Wash. Another brother, Duncan Kelso, lives in Seattle.

Stephen, who is a writer, was graduated from University of Washington last June with a major in English. He and Theresa will be married Aug. 27 in Corte Madera and plan to make their future home in Seattle.

Business Women To Hear Program

The American Business Women's Assn., Charter Chapter, will meet at 6:30 p.m. at Franchini's Chateau.

A sound film and program entitled, "Get in The Whirl" will be presented by John Simmons and Marjorie Hendricks. The program deals with the role of the mature woman in today's business. Mrs. Genevieve Malling is program and reservations chairman, and Mrs. Sadie Looper, banquet and reservations chairman.

Young Volunteers Receive Caps At Recent Ceremony

Marin teen-aged volunteers received caps to complete their Red Cross uniforms at Sonoma State Hospital last week. They were Val Bennett, Helen Hogdon, Dana Kealey, Donna Peterson, Leslie Whitelaw and Remy Waldteufel, who will assist in recreation programs for the hospital patients.

Mrs. Alice LaVere is coordinator of volunteers for Sonoma State Hospital and Barbara Berryman is Red Cross Youth chairman of Sonoma volunteers.

Summer Supper Dance To Honor Deb

By MOLLY MARIN

Swimming, a buffet supper and dancing to the lively music of the Beatables are planned for the party which Dr. and Mrs. Donovan O. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Rice III, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bagnall will give Sunday to honor Marin debutante Susan de Berry. The party will be held at the Cooke home in Tiburon.

Sue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick de Berry of Belvedere, will attend, as will the deb's sister, Janet, home for the summer from the University of Oregon, and Mrs. D. Maxton Trautman of San Francisco, godmother of the debutante.

The 75 guests will include the current crop of debs, their escorts, and a number of Sue's contemporaries.

The Bagnalls' house guests, Mrs. Margaret Powers and her daughter Christine from Portland, will be at the party.

BRIGHTLY COLORED BEGONIAS and fuchsias decorated the patio when Mr. and Mrs. Al Bianchi gave a barbecue at their Point Reyes Station home Sunday afternoon. Attending were nearly 100 friends from various parts of the state and also out of state. Associates of the host, who is affiliated with the Farm Bureau, Soil Conservation, Dairy and Livestock associations, attended the annual event. That Lyd Bianchi is an avid gardener was evidenced by the beautiful plant display.

The Gratamas spent three weeks driving through the Grand Tetons and Sun Valley. At Jenny Lodge in the Tetons they met the Victor Wollmanns of Sausalito, who were also staying there.

The Remenspergers flew to New York on June 12, where they rented a car and drove to Connecticut to visit their son, William Remensperger Jr. and his wife and three children. Then they drove through the New England states to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in Canada and back through Bangor, Me., to New York. Their return home from there was delayed a week because of the air strike.

The Alan Conners spent two weeks driving to Victoria, B.C., and back along the coast.

Pamela Marie Walker Marries At Nuptial Mass In Novato

At a Solemn High Nuptial Mass at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato, Pamela Marie Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Salt Lake City, became the bride of Philip John Hamon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Hamon of Novato.

Officiating was the Rev. Alan Armstrong, with two of Pamela's brothers, Michael and John, serving as altar boys.

Pamela's white full length sculptured cotton gown was empire lined and trimmed with lace. A crown of bavardia held her shoulder length veil.

Mrs. Judy LeaVell, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Junior bridesmaids were Elizabeth Hamon and Kathy Hamon, sisters of the bridegroom. Sharon Johnson was flower girl. The matron of honor and junior bridesmaids wore ice blue full length rose-sculptured cotton empire gowns.

Stephen Hamon, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers included David Walker, brother of the bride, and Jim Johnson. Steven Walker, another brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

The wedding reception, held at the San Marin Club, was followed by a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe and Salt Lake City, where a second lawn reception was held at the home of the bride. The newlyweds will make their home in Terra Linda.

Pamela was graduated from the University of Utah in Salt Lake City and is a third grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow School in San Anselmo. Her husband is employed at Falk Typography in San Francisco and is attending Golden Gate Business College there.

Alpha Phi Alumnae Officer Is Member Of Yachting Team

Mrs. Anthony M. Guzzardo of Tiburon is the newly elected president of Alpha Phi Alumnae of Marin County. She has been a member of the group for three years.

Other new officers are Mrs. Clyde Rossi, vice president; Mrs. Emerson Best, treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Treantafeles, secretary.

Mrs. Guzzardo, a resident of Marin for four years, was graduated from Northwestern University where she got her B.S. degree in medical technology. Besides the alumnae organization, she is a member of the Belvedere-Tiburon Guild of the Louise Boyd Museum and the Corinthian Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary, and sailing with the latter's team competed in the Pacific Coast Eliminations for the Adams Cup.

Church Society President Enjoys Working With Youth

Mrs. Gale D. Mosier of Corte Madera, new president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church, says working with youth in various activities is what she enjoys most.

Her other leisure time interests are swimming, reading, baking and studying cultures of other countries.

MRS. GALE D. MOSIER

A member of the society three years, the new president has served previously as secretary of youth, representative to the education commission and member of the nominating committee of the Redwood District of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Projects of the society this year will be developing greater communication between church and community and supporting local and foreign missions.

Patricia was educated in the public schools of Omaha, Neb. She is also active in the Sponsors Club for Teens of Corte Madera, Granada School Parent-Teacher Assn. and Eastern Star. When the family lived in Vallejo, she was active in Scouting.

She and her husband, a night supervisor at H. Koch and Sons, Inc. in Corte Madera, have lived in Marin six years and have three children, Michael, 13; Scott, 9, and Denise, 7.

Other new officers of the society are Mesdames Eugene Alberts, vice president; Stanley Gallagher, secretary; and Ray Mefford, treasurer.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM EDWARD TEVENDALE were married on July 30 at the Mill Valley Methodist Church. The bride is the former Sharon La Verne Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias W. Kennedy of Mill Valley.

"Julius Caesar" will play tonight and "Richard III" will be performed Saturday, all at 8:30 p.m.

Blood Thinner Fights Death For Oldsters

By Science Service

BOSTON — To prevent pulmonary embolism, which is the leading cause of death after hip fractures, especially in persons over the age of 75, anticoagulation was used successfully in 83 elderly patients at Massachusetts General Hospital here.

In none of the treated group of men and women did pulmonary embolism develop while an anticoagulant was being given. Warfarin in the form of Coumadin tablets was given in most cases before surgical reduction of the fracture.

Blood clotting was carefully checked to be sure there would be no excessive bleeding.

In the control group of 83 other patients, six had pulmonary embolism, and in 18, thrombophlebitis developed. Even a short period of bed rest can cause a high risk of bloodclotting complications.

Slashed Infants Reported 'Serious'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two infant boys were in serious — but not critical — condition today after a razor attack by their mother.

Police said the mother, Mrs. Magda Pesko, 30, slashed their necks yesterday before her husband, Thomas, 41, could intervene. The husband was cut on the neck.

Injured were Thomas Jr., 4, and Christopher, 2.

Mrs. Pesko also cut her own wrists, but neither she nor her husband were hurt badly.

Manager Applications 'Winnowed' By Council

Sausalito city coucilmen last night went through a process of "winnowing" applications of candidates for the job of city manager. But no action was taken in the closed session.

The council hopes to begin interviewing applicants within the next two weeks, reported Mayor Mel Wax. Fire Chief Charles E. Masten is acting city manager. He has held the post since the resignation of Charles A. Brown June 22.

Two Hamilton Non-Coms Decorated For Services

Two Hamilton Air Force Base NCO's have been decorated for their actions in Southeast Asia last year.

S/Sgt. Enrique B. Ferrer Jr., won the Distinguished Flying Cross for his part in a flare drop mission last Oct. 4 in South Viet Nam. The flight mechanic on a C-123B aircraft, over Phy My bridge, he and the loadmaster armed and ejected 242 flares in a five hour period while exposed to heavy antiaircraft fire. Three friendly positions managed to repel the hostile attack and maintain control of the area. Sgt. Ferrer lives at 1771 Grant Avenue, Novato.

The Air Force Commendation Medal was awarded to S/Sgt. Paul M.D. Pembrook Jr. for his action in discovering a mistake in the delivery of voice encryption equipment, which might have seriously affected an Air Force mission in Southeast Asia last October.

Artist Is Judge At Napa Fair

San Rafael artist Winifred Koch was one of the judges of paintings for the 36th annual Napa Town and Country Fair, which opens today and runs through Sunday in Napa.

Mrs. Koch's painting, "Magic Moments," which won "best in show" award at the 1966 Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross, is being given a courtesy showing at the Napa fair.

Her work is also included in a current art and decorations show at Porto Bello West off San Pedro Road in San Rafael.

Young Talent To Be Featured

Rock and roll singers, musicians, magicians, comedians, actors and all other performers among San Anselmo's younger set will have a chance to show their stuff during a youth variety show sponsored by the city parks and recreation department at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 26 in the Isabel Cook School Auditorium.

Youngsters six years and older should register for the show with the parks and recreation office at Memorial Park by Aug. 9, said department director Andrew J. Snyder Jr. Auditions will be held from 1-3 p.m. Aug. 10 and 11 in the school multiuse room, he said.

POLITICIAN'S CONTROVERSY

County-City Role Argue

By HOYT GIMLIN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The county, long the stepchild of government is now being championed as the savior of the city.

Embracing city and suburbs, it could impose orderly control on their common problems—if permitted to do so.

Thist suggestion is being advanced in separate ways by the nation's leading businessmen, through the New York-based Committee for Economic Development; by the Republic party, and by the National Assn. of Counties.

The CED cites 102 metropolitan areas each within a single county.

"If these county governments were performed and revitalized, they could attack urban and suburban problems through the framework of a single governmental jurisdiction," CED says in a new report. Thus, there would be no need to add new layers of government for fire protection, mosquito control or 100 other assorted purposes.

But the mayors don't care for this approach. They consider the weak county an anachronism and the strong county, such as in the South and West, a bastion of rural sentiment.

The counties are more closely attuned to the state capitols and "we have 50 years of history to prove the cities don't get a fair shake at the state capitols," says John Gunther, executive director of the National Conference of Mayors.

Republicans, on the other hand, abhor seeing the cities go straight to Washington for money, and sometimes political sustenance too.

"The picture of elected officeholders pleading their case and cause to a distant bureaucracy is not one which squares with our theories of representative government," says the Republican coordinating committee, a group headed by former congressman Robert Taft Jr. The committee believes the urban-county role should be given consideration.

The national assn. of Counties thinks the counties should share in Washington's beneficence. B. F. Hillenbrand, the association's executive director, says the Johnson administration's "demonstration cities" program should be a city-county approach. The program now before congress would concentrate great doses of federal help in selected cities on a trial basis.

All parties, including the mayors, look glumly on the inability of city government to stop the spreading urban ills—slums, crime and traffic. But switching the burden from city hall to the county court house isn't a cure, Gunther says.

"We don't have any problem that couldn't be cured with the time, the money and the talent," he adds. Attention to the structure of government rather than the problems themselves, he says, smacks of an academic rather than real-life approach.

Even so, the cities have already begun to work with their county neighbors — rustics or not. Denver, Honolulu, Nashville and San Francsico all have combined city-county governments; Washington, D.C., and San Francisco work extensively with surrounding counties for planning of subway systems.

Formal agreements crossing from city into county for special purposes abound. Some reach into another state on a formal basis, such as the Port of New York Authority stretching across the Hudson to the New Jersey shore, or informally, such as St. Louis, Mo., working with East St. Louis, Ill., on antipoverty programs.

The county may not exactly be making a comeback as a vital link in the governmental chain between the home town and Washington. But it is being pictured nowadays in an urban setting, and that's where the action is.

Annual Pay Guarantee Precedent In Offing

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — In a precedent-setting finding, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz recently directed the establishment of a form of guaranteed jobs or annual wages in the construction industry.

The directive affects only New Jersey for now. But the pattern will be applied to all 50 states as rapidly as possible, Wirtz declared.

Wirtz and New Jersey's commission of labor and industry, Raymond F. Male, sitting as a unique two-man panel, issued what they termed a "determination, resolution and disposition" in a dispute between the Associated General Contractors of New Jersey and Local 825 of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

The dispute has plagued the administration since last October. A contract agreed upon then would have breached the administration's guideposts limiting wage and price increases to 3.2 per cent a year by the greatest amount yet—9 per cent a year for three years.

Wirtz said he did not have a specific figure for the recommended settlement. But he contended it was "well within the limits of the general guidepost structure."

A major factor underlying the dispute has been the seasonal nature of the work involved—large highway and road construction and earthmoving. The Wirtz-Male settlement attempts to cover this in these recommendations:

1. A guarantee of 1,600 hours of work a year for all operating engineers who put in a minimum of 700 hours. In effect, this means a 40-week work year. The union contends its members average only 30 to 32 weeks a year now. Contractors, however, claim the average is over 42 weeks (1,691 hours).

2. The establishment of a State Development Authority to assure "extended earnings opportunities" when regular jobs were not available. These would be financed out of a fund created by employer payments on an as-yet-undetermined-cents - per-hour basis.

Wirtz denied reports the figure was 20 cents. The opportunities would include training, apprenticeship, adult education and working with the neighborhood youth corps.

3. An immediate study by the state (and ultimately by every state and the federal government) seeking to take advantage of modern techniques that permit virtually year-round work. Contracting jobs would be rescheduled year-round, instead of being bunched in July and August as at present.

4. A study of practical steps by government at all levels, management, labor and technical groups to reduce costs.

5. An increase in hourly wages by 35 cents, retroactive to July 1, 1965, plus an additional 15 cents effective July 1 of this year. A cost-of-living escalator is provided.

Peter Weber, head of Local 825 of the Operating Engineers, already has accepted the recommendations. A. Spencer Marsellis, president of the AGC, has rejected them —thus, casting doubt on the immediate legal effectiveness of the finding.

Wirtz conceded his directive was not "arbitration," but a "determintion," which is a lesser level of legal force.

The labor secretary expressed optimism, however, that the contractors would reverse themselves, particularly since a major point of controversy has been revamped.

This concerns the state development authority fund. The contractors protested it would be blank-check deal because figures were lacking on how much the fund payments would cost them. They estimated it would run to $9.5 million in two years, definite limitations.

The contractors and union are to attempt to fix a final figure between themselves. Failing that, Wirtz and Male will do so by Sept. 1.

Once there were 127 million acres of wet lands in the U. S. where waterfowl thrived. Today this has been reduced to less than 82 million acres.

RECEIVES AWARD — Retired attorney Bruce Johnstone, an Inverness resident for 25 years, received a golden certificate for 50 years of service as an attorney from the Chicago Bar Assn. last week. The 90-year-old lawyer has been a member of the bar since 1904 and has been active in both national and community affairs.

Four Marinites In Marine Basic

The four enlistees are Edward L. Dover, son of Howard F. Dover of 505 Eldridge Avenue, Novato; Gary P. Jimenez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Xavier F. Jimenez, 22 Butterfly Lane, Kentfield; Michael A. Lefler, son of Mrs. June O. Mead, 7 Napa Avenue, Fairfax, and Stephen D. Serpa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Serpa of 104 Blossom Court, San Rafael.

After basic training, they will have advanced training at Camp Pendleton, followed by 20 days leave.

INSTANT FISH

Another Weapon In War Against Pesky Mosquito

Marin residents who own ornamental ponds already get free supplies of mosquito-eating fish from the Marin Mosquito Abatement District.

Now it is possible that instant mosquito-fish will be available some day.

A scientist from the University of California at Riverside is making trial releases of mosquito-attacking Argentine and African fish at the Rice experiment station near Biggs.

"Instant fish" is a term applied to fish whose eggs can lie in dry earth for years and hatch almost overnight as soon as water reaches the earth. The fish spring to life simultaneously with the equally instant mosquitoes, and gobble up the larvae.

The test, conducted by Dr. Ernest C. Bay, indicates the potential of "instant fish" is strong as a means of controlling mosquitoes in their breeding grounds.

Monday Meeting

The Strawberry Recreation District Board, which did not meet last night due to a lack of a quorum, tentatively has scheduled a meeting for Monday night, Mrs. Helen Drolla, acting clerk, said.

Women's Group Raps Miss, Mrs.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The titles "Miss" or "Mrs.", which reflect a woman's success in her quest for a husband, should be abolished, according to Philippa Harris.

Mrs. Harris, a Briton who works for the United Nations in Paris, says the titles reflect a society where the most important thing for a woman was marriage. Today, when women struggle more for independence, the titles are ridiculous, she said.

Some 450 career women from 19 nations cheered her proposal at the opening yesterday of the ninth soroptimist congress here.

Soroptimist comes from the Latin words "soror", meaning sister, and "optima", meaning the best.

Ex-Secretary Pleads Guilty To Embezzlement

A tearful Mrs. Jacqueline E. Gianola, former secretary of Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to felony embezzlement of $1,065 in district funds.

The plea came after her arraignment on the complaint before Judge Peter Allen Smith. The judge then certified the case to Marin Superior Court at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday for further proceedings.

Bail of $1,100 was continued for Mrs. Gianola, represented by attorney Thomas Barfield.

The 32-year-old defendant, mother of five children, kept $1,065 in cash water bill payments from district customers over a period from November of 1964 through last April. She spent all the money on family needs and personal items, investigators said.

The loss came to light in a July 1 county audit.

Money For Oxidant Station

A small slice of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's new $1,041,779 budget will provide operation and maintenance of an oxidant station in Marin's Civic Center.

Currently a county employee measures oxidants in samples of Marin's air. The district plans to install a full time employee to operate the station in three counties in the new budget—Marin, Contra Costa and San Mateo.

Just when the air pollution measurer will start work at the civic center isn't known. A spokesman at the district's headquarters in San Francisco said it probably won't be until 1967.

Recent hearing board actions of the district granted two variances to Marin applicants. The United States Park service has been given permission to burn some old buildings and refuse at Point Reyes National Seashore.

Bahia Properties Corp. of Novato has been granted a one year extension on a previous variance that allows refuse burning on land being cleared for a subdivision, the 900 acre site is located east of Highway 101 about a mile north of Black Point.

Marin Marines Set For Annual Training

"Marin's Marines," 156 Marine Reservists, will leave Santa Venetia at midnight Saturday for two weeks annual field training at Twentynine Palms.

The Marine reservists from San Rafael's Company M, Third Battalion, 23rd Marines will spend one week in general field training and will participate in "Operation Sidewinder," a reserve air-ground exercise, the second week.

Marin Girl Enters Beauty Pageant As 'Miss Nebraska'

Nineteen - year - old Patricia Van Horne of San Rafael will enter the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City this fall — but she'll be representing Nebraska, not California.

Patricia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Horne of 28 San Marino Drive, won the Miss Nebraska title after entering the contest as Miss Lincoln.

A freshman at the University of Nebraska, Patricia was born at York, Neb., and went through school in Hastings. The Van Hornes moved to California four years ago, but Patricia returned to her native state for college.

Her father, Charles Van Horne, is manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Rafael.

Mrs. Van Horne said the family will fly to Atlantic City for the Miss America Pageant. "We have already made our reservations and are hoping the airline strike will be over," she said.

The new Miss Nebraska is a music major and sang in the contest's talent division. Her measurements are 38-25-35.

The title is Patricia's first win in beauty pageants. "She doesn't go around entering contests," explained Mrs. Van Horne, "but her sorority sisters entered her in the Miss Lincoln contest, and she won."

Old City Hall Looted

Someone entered San Rafael's old, and now abandoned, city hall during the night, police learned yesterday, and forced the coin boxes on three vending machines. An undetermined amount of change and all the cigarettes in one machine were taken.

Nurses Continue Working; Some Protest Layoffs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An interim pay increase and formation of an arbitration committee yesterday headed off the threatened mass resignation of nurses at 33 San Francisco Bay Area hospitals.

Many of the 1,500 nurses at a ratification meeting declined to vote but those that balloted favored the plan and hospitals remained staffed.

Still to be worked out is the question of nurses who had been laid off as hospitals prepared for the walkout which never came.

A number of St. Mary' Hospital nurses in San Francisco filed a grievance with the California Nurses Assn., saying they found they had been laid off when they reported for work.

Mrs. Jules Becker is president of the Marin County Chapter of United Nations Assn.

Drunken Driving Charge Draws Fine, Probation

Valentino Hiralez, 45, San Francisco, was fined $249 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Sunday on Highway 101 by the California Highway Patrol.

Dale Durward Bian, 50, also of San Francisco, was fined $166 and placed on a year's probation for the same offense. He was arrested by the patrol on Highway 101 July 9.

Philip Gestson, 49, of 1355 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, was fined $249 and given a year's probation for drunken driving. San Anselmo police arrested him May 20 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Raymond Edward Daley, 46, of Vallejo, was fined $220 and placed on a year's probation for the same offense. Sheriff's officers arrested him Tuesday on Highway 37.

MARCH OF DIMES

Foundation's Greatest Task Now Birth Defects Conquest

(Last of three articles)

Months ago, when a Marin County public information program on birth defects was under consideration, a local physician was asked whether he thought the crippling disease would ever be beaten. As well known for a direct, no-nonsense manner as for highly regarded professional ability, the doctor simply replied: "Yes, it will be beaten—when enough people do something about it. Birth defects are not inevitable. Neither is the common cold. Or tooth decay. But only an aroused public can get the job done."

Arousing the public, here in Marin, and in every other county of the nation is a job of the National Foundation-March of Dimes. Polio has been conquered but, surprisingly, a recent survey indicates that 55 per cent of the people still associate the Foundation's activities with polio. In her visit to Marin last April, the National Foundation's Dr. Virginia Apgar expressed the need to "plaster the entire nation with just four words, 'National Foundation —Birth Defects' to let everyone know what our job is."

Decades of discouragement faced by scientists probing into the causes and means of preventing birth defects are gradually giving way to a new era of enlightenment.

Here and there, pieces of the puzzle now seem to fit together with some kind of logic and order where only a few years ago confusion and disorder ruled. Each new discovery today encourages researchers to remain at their test tubes and microscopes with reasonable expectation of adding eventually to our knowledge of what lies behind these tragic births.

Thousands of babies continue to be born each year with missing arms and legs, with crippling spinal defects and other serious disorders that affect sight, hearing, the heart and the mentality. In the United States alone, it is estimated that more than 250,000 infants are born each year with serious defects. At least 500,000 miscarriages, stillbirths and spontaneous abortions are caused by defects in the embryo or fetus before birth. To this must be added the more than 60,000 deaths caused every year by birth defects among infants, children and adults. Thus the annual toll, just in the United States, mounts to 560,000.

Under the combined assault of modern-day geneticists, embryologists, molecular and cellular biologists and other research scientists, more and more light is being shed on some of the mysteries of defective development before birth. Through surgery, through chemical agents and dietary measures, thousands of infants are being saved today. Through rehabilitation, many are able to live more normally, and attend school so that they may become useful, self-sufficient citizens.

Two developments occurred in the 1950s which combined to revive mankind's flagging hopes that advances into this unknown territory were possible.

One was the disclosure that certain major disorders were caused by what are called inborn errors of metabolism in which something goes wrong with the body's chemistry. The inherited disease, phenylketonuria (PKU), which can lead to mental deficiency, was pinpointed as being caused by such an error.

The other development was the disclosure that certain birth defects are caused by abnormalities in chromosomes, the rod-like bundles of hereditary material in all cells. The disorders caused by these chromosome mistakes include mongolism, many kinds of abnormal sex characteristics, infertility and mental retardation.

In 1958, The National Foundation-March of Dimes entered the fight against birth defects because, among other reasons, it was the greatest unmet medical problem of childhood.

The decision of this respected health agency to mount a campaign against congenital malformations had the immediate effect of arousing wide and spontaneous support for an organized drive, based on its wealth of invaluable experience.

The outlook has changed greatly in only a few years. Today The National Foundation-March of Dimes has 36 research grants in operation at the nation's leading laboratories, and it finances 69 birth defect centers.

The United States recently went through its worst German measles epidemic in history. Several March of Dimes grantees are following very closely the effects of this epidemic on the infants of mothers exposed to the disease during the first three months of pregnancy. Other virus infections are also suspect and may be the causes of certain birth defects.

Research scientists are also giving various chemicals and drugs to pregnant animals to determine the effect on their litters. In this atomic age, the effects of radiation are getting a great deal of attention, and studies are being made of the possible effects on the newborn of air and water pollution and agricultural pesticides to which the mother was exposed during pregnancy.

Two-Woman Show To Be Presented

A two-woman show entitled, "Off Broadway and Beyond, or Would You Believe . . .?" will be presented by Lois Wright and Claudia Smart to benefit the Novato Little League.

Curtain time for the show is 8:30 p.m. Aug. 12 and 13 at the Novato Community House.

The two, well known for their work in the Novato Community Club's past shows, will present portions of Broadway shows, and song and dance routines.

Peace Corps

Richard C. Boss Jr., 22, son of Richard C. Boss of 127 South Ridgewood Road, Kentfield, is one of 59 Peace Corps trainees who have begun a three-month training program at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Representatives To Be Selected

Six young business and professional men will be selected this month by the Marin County Rotary District to participate in a group study exchange program with Australia, it was disclosed last week.

The representatives will leave for New South Wales, Australia, Oct. 10 for a two month visit to observe first-hand how problems of youth, the aged, and the infirmed are met by the government.

Applicants for the program are being screened by the San Rafael Rotary Club, according to program chairman Richard V. Bettini.

The French have maintained through the years many of the native customs brought over by immigrants who settled at Quebec.

DEE LAZZARINI

WARREN WELLS

DICK TALBOT

FRANK MILANI

Pontiac is truly a Marin car. The wide-track is a tiger on the freeway and in the hills. Design and construction are deluxe—both technically and for driver comfort. Selection is unlimited and prices are right. Many Marin homes have two Pontiac wide-track tigers in their garages.

Dee, Dick, Frank and Warren along with Herb Lucas and Dale Franske have been in Marin for many years . . . and have been selling Pontiacs for many years, too. Because of their reputation for satisfied customers they would be welcomed at most any agency. They not only know Pontiacs . . . they know all cars. That's why they've elected to stay with the car they know is right for the Marin driver. Their old friends know they always tailor a good deal for the customer . . . and now they're dealing better than ever before.
If you are an old friend . . . come in and say hello. If you're looking at Pontiac for the first time—come in and get acquainted. These men can come up with the car you want . . . the way you want it.

GEORGE DEXTER

The car is new . . . but the personnel that sell and service are all familiar faces to Marin Pontiac buyers . . . and now they're devoting their undivided attention to making our customers happier than ever. Add our enlarged facilities, newest equipment and excellent factory cooperation and assistance . . . and you just can't find any better service in the county.

Pontiac is a selling car. This means that we'll have the complete selection at all times . . . plus the finest used cars, too. As a new dealer with the '66 model year coming to an end—you can imagine that we're really making our deals attractive to keep these models moving out of our show room.

Why not come in and look at our cars . . . inspect our service department . . . we'll be glad to see you.

PUPILS REACT—Student teachers from the San Francisco State College teacher education project apply techniques learned in closed circuit television analysis. Object of the project is to make teachers more responsive to "cues" given them by the behavior, bad or good, of their pupils.

Hospital Aide Sees Medicare Growth

Medicare will eventually be expanded to cover every citizen, Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., administrator of Terra Linda Valley Hospital, predicted today on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Other guests were Betty Presley, director of the Marin County Department of Public Social Services; Dr. John C. Siemens, Ross General Hospital administrator, and Milton Scott, Novato General Hospital administrator.

EXPANSION SEEN

Dufficy said that, as of 1960, "over 50 per cent of the people" were receiving medical assistance from the federal government "under military, welfare, veterans, prison and other programs."

He said, "The Social Security program now covering those over 65 years of age will eventually include all ages."

The three hospital administrators did not concern themselves with the merits of Medicare, but went into unresolved problems of paying for it.

As Dufficy put it, "Medicare is here to stay. Medicine, itself, will not be as practiced for the past 20 years, but we will have a good, impersonal type of care."

COST PROBLEM

The problem of paying for this "good, impersonal care," as the three administrators saw it, was whether or not the federal government covered the as yet unknown "hidden costs" of the program.

If not, Siemens and Dufficy agreed, the hospitals, in order to survive, would have to increase charges to private patients to make up the difference.

Another choice might be to withdraw from the Medicare program.

Program director Kitty Oppenheimer questioned Siemens about reports that Ross Hospital was considering such withdrawal. Siemens said the hospital "is not seriously considering this, unless it becomes very desperate." He said he had been advised that the Social Security Administration is reviewing and modifying its position as to what are the "reasonable costs" for which it will reimburse hospitals.

RED TAPE HIT

A "hidden cost" cited by administrator Scott was the effect of "some 32 different forms" required by the Social Security Administration. Said Scott: "If you miss as much as one question in a box on one of the forms, you might spend hours getting the information later from a patient."

If the cost of such paperwork cannot be justified as a "reasonable cost" to the government, Scott said, it will be "a difficult thing" not to make it up by charging the private patients.

Another cost sited by Siemens was the requirement that hospitals "keep a completely separate set of books" for the governments fiscal agents to facilitate identifying Medicare patients.

Dufficy pointed out that this "bookkeeping for the government" is even further complicated by overlapping programs. He said, "A patient may be a little Medicare, a little MediCal and a little county welfare."

Miss Presley explained the relationship of the three programs. She noted that at present the federal Medicare program covers only persons over 65 years of age.

MediCal is the state program, established and regulated under the Casey Act and financed by federal funds, matching state funds and some contributions from the county.

MediCal, Miss Presley said, covers certain categories of the "medically needy" not covered by Medicare.

These categories provide for those over 65 who do not qualify for Medicare; those under 65 who are blind or totally disabled and for dependent children whose parents are either dead, absent, unemployed, blind or totally disabled.

Other "medically needy," Miss Presley said, are taken care of by the county welfare program, financed entirely by county funds.

Miss Presly said a new program is under development by the county to help solve a problem created by Medicare, a problem pointed out by Siemens: "How to move patients out of hospitals," once Medicare has provided them with beds.

"The Marin Health and Welfare Agency," Miss Presley said "is seeking to expand its service to provide out-patient care. This could be a real potential exit door from a lot of hospitals."

Siemens noted that the Medicare laws called for establishment of a "utilization committee" in each hospital to "review the length of stay for each person. . . and determine if that level of care is still neded."

The program will be repeated on KTIM by tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

TWICE-TEMPTED

Crash Finishes Boys' Car Ride

Most 14-year-old boys are able to withstand a temptation the first time, but twice was too much yesterday for one San Anselmo youth.

He was walking home along Butterfield Road in San Anselmo when he saw Rosemarie Codoni's 1948 Nash parked in the Brookside School Parking lot. The keys were in the ignition.

He continued home, but returned later and noticed the auto was still there. The boy took the car, picked up a friend, also 14 and of San Anselmo, and they went for a ride.

At 11:40 a.m., they were returning the auto via Brookside Drive, when the youngster at the wheel lost control on a curve. His foot reached for the brake and found the accelerator. The car cut a swath through three hedges, skidded across two lawns and slammed into the home of Mrs. Agnes Burleigh at 215 Brookside Drive.

The boys clambered out of the car and dashed off. A police officer found them peering out from underneath a hedge a half mile away from the crash scene. They ran off again, but surrendered a block away, according to Sgt. Al Howenstein.

The sergeant cited the first youth for car theft, the second for accepting a ride in a stolen car, and both for fleeing the scene of an accident.

Assessment Total Will Be Higher

A closer look at adjustments in assessments during county equalization hearings just ended indicates the final total will be more, not less, than last year.

Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell said today the total will come "very close" to the $900,000 he allowed when he estimated the fiscal 1967 tax rate earlier.

Despite this unexpected setback, he said, he still hopes to shave a few cents off his tax rate estimate of $2.235 per $100 valuation.

An increase in the personal property tax roll, due to increased billing by the county, will raise the overall assessment value and may result in a "minor" tax decrease.

Yesterday, Mitchell said he expected reductions by supervisors, sitting as the board of equalization, would be "much less than last year." The figure last year was $761,110. This year, the board of equalization made 225 adjustments to the 390 assessments protests from July 6 when the hearings began.

Mitchell said he expected to get final totals of this year's adjustments by tomorrow.

Marin City Fires To Be Investigated

Three grass fires in Marin City yesterday are to be investigated, the County Fire Department reported today.

Largest of the fires burned half an acre of grass on Donahue Street at 2:12 p.m. yesterday afternoon. Donahue Street has been the scene of several grass fires in recent weeks, all listed as "cause under investigation."

A grass fire at the ball park at 11:46 a.m. yesterday burned a ten foot square area, and another fire on the hillside above the Fireside Motel at 5:25 p.m., burned an area 50 by 150 feet.

Richmond Span Sets Record On June Day

A new record for traffic on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge has been announced by the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

It takes so long for such figures to be released, however, that the record may already have been beaten.

The division announcement said 19,126 cars, trucks and buses crossed the bridge June 19.

DELAY QUESTIONED

Asked why it takes so long to tally up the volume of traffic on the bridge, the division's operations engineer, C. L. Sweet, said, "It seems to be a computer holding up the process."

He said records for each month are usually computed by the 20th of the next month. This time, the figures came out of the machinery even later.

As result, the July figures will not come out for another two weeks, and it will be at least Sept. 20 before anyone knows how many vehicles went across the bridge any day this month.

MONTH'S TALLY

Total collections for June were $362,444, up 7 per cent from last year. The bridge toll collectors have taken in $29,782,765.90 since the bridge opened in 1956.

Average daily number of ve- was 14,824, the report said. This was up 9.54 per cent from June, 1965.

Another Drydock In Sausalito

While Sausalito planning commissioners last night deliberated on whether the three floating drydocks in Sausalito waters are in conformance with the zoning ordinance, a fourth drydock slid into port.

The dock was being brought in by tugs at 11:15 p.m. to an area in the stream outboard of Napa Street Pier. The four docks are to be moved into the diesel engineering and maintenance at 1702 Bridgeway and will undergo repairs over an 18-month period.

Chairman Alan D. Bonapart said the job of checking to see if the drydocks operations conform with the ordinance was assigned to Commissioner George C. Hoffman, who has already made a preliminary investigation. "It appears there is no violation but a further study is being made," added Bonapart.

The commission heard a request for a lot split application and approval of planned united development from Sausalito investments for an apartment development bounded by Highway 101 and crossing the proposed realignment of Rodeo Avenue. One segment of the development is to be a 54-unit building. No action was taken, the subject to be studied and heard again on Sept. 6.

Eugene A. Ostaggi is president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

Teachers Learning From Pupils

When a third grader fidgets, says, "I don't want to do that," or announces he is going to sharpen his pencil even though it is already sharp, he may be trying to tell his teacher something.

If she can discover what he really means—such as the fact that he is going through stormy seas in his home life—the teacher has a much better chance of doing her job.

Part of the summer session now in progress at Sausalito's Richardson Bay School—a session in which the "pupils" sometimes are small children but at other times are Marin County teachers—is aimed at trying to learn how to do this.

The program, believed to be the first of its kind in Marin, uses closed circuit television as one of its tools in teaching teachers how to take "cues" from the behavior of their pupils.

It is only one of several experimental projects which make up the Sausalito Teacher Education Project, operated by San Francisco State College.

Involved in the sessions are 23 students from the college, five college teachers, two college counselors and several research people. Also involved are 27 elementary school teachers, most from Mill Valley and Sausalito. They are picking up college credit by taking the course.

At the same time, the adult "pupils" are trying out the ideas presented in the course on the 200 youngsters enrolled in summer school, which ends Friday.

Before the children come to school each day, the college students, their teachers and the Marin teachers go into simulated classroom situations in which some of the adults act out the parts of youngsters.

Using the closed circuit television equipment, the action between teachers and "pupils" is taped. Afterward, they replay the tapes and analyze what went on.

"We're trying to find out if we can teach teachers to be sensitive to receive cues and be flexible to change a particular teaching strategy to take advantage of the cues," explained Elizabeth Titsworth, who works with the teacher education project.

"The teacher learns how to react to turn something negative into something positive."

She said the experiment is "quite new." The project people are developing a handbook for it.

The state college program, administered by the state Compensatory Education Fund through the McAteer Act, will continue its work of teacher training in September. A teacher education center is being developed on the Bayside school campus, and the program will move there on its completion.

RAMPS TO CLOSE FOR REPAVEMENT

Ramps at the Corte Madera interchange on Highway 101 will be alternately closed Monday and Tuesday between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. for repaving, Alan S. Hart, California district engineer, disclosed yesterday.

Motorists wishing to use the Corte Madera exit will be rerouted to the next interchange while paving is completed. Detour signs will be placed on the approaches to the interchange and freeway in advance to permit motorists to select another route.

Recreation Staff Wages Increased

Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Commission last night increased the salaries of its lifeguards, instructors and coaches.

Recreation Director James Hand said each member of the staff will receive a 20 cents an hour increase effective immediately.

Hand said the new scales would bring the Terra Linda Commission more in line with other comparable districts. A lifeguard will now receive a salary of $1.75 an hour.

Commissioners also agreed to hold this year's board election in conjunction with the November general election. Hand said two seats were due to become vacant and nomination papers will be available at the recreation office.

Next commission meeting will be held next Wednesday — a week earlier than usual, because of vacations. The meeting is expected to deal with appointment of a landscape architect.

Deadly Weapon Found During Routine Check

Gary Lenier Prater of Fort Gaines, Ga., was arrested last night by Novato police on charges of possession of a deadly weapon. He was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $2,000.

Prater's arrest came during a routine check of his car by police during which they found a blackjack in his possession. Because he did not have a draft card, information on him was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, police reported.

Larkspur Agrees To Abandoning Right-Of-Way On Schultz Land

At the request of Niels Schultz Jr., one of Larkspur's biggest developers, the Larkspur City Council voted 3-2 last night to abandon the city's street right-of-way through a 19,000 square foot parcel along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in front of the Greenbrae Lanes.

The parcel, which sits in front of Schultz land, is still owned by the city, however, and some councilmen were ready to quarrel over how much Schultz should pay for it.

The state condemned the land when building the Greenbrae Interchange, paying Schultz approximately $4,000. It later found it did not need this parcel and deeded it to Larkspur at no cost.

Shultz said he thought it fair for the city to charge him the amount he was paid for the land when the state condemned it.

Councilman Alfred Malvino said the land's value has probably increased and urged that the city attempt to sell the parcel "at its fair market value."

"Did the city insist on paying fair market value when it wanted land for a Greenbrae fire house?" asked Schultz. "It's a two way street. We've contributed to city parks and the library fund, too, and I don't think that should be forgotten either."

Malvino voted against the street abandonment, saying he was uncertain the city will get the fair price for the parcel when it sells. Mayor Vaughn Marker voted no, saying the land may yet be needed for a roadway.

After the abandonment passed the council asked City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst to make a rough appraisal of the property's value. Schultz said the land is valueless to anyone else since he has access rights through the property.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Abandoned the portion of View Street between Orange and Olive avenues.
2. Agreed to give the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District an easement over 97,000 square feet of Larkspur property north of Doherty Drive for $12,300. They set that money aside for development of a city park.
3. Introduced an ordinance prohibiting motor vehicles on fire and hiking trails without a permit.
4. Approved the final map for the Lark-Meadows subdivision.
5. Authorized the beginning of abatement proceedures against a building at 19 Onyx Avenue which the city staff says is substandard.
6. Banned parking on the south side of Bon Air Road between Magnolia Avenue and the bridge.
7. Accepted as complete the job of painting city hall and the main fire station.
8. Sent a letter to the Marin Municipal Water District asking for a program to upgrade substandard pressure mains, particularly in critical fire areas.
9. On the request of councilman Earl O'Grady, ordered the population figure on the Larkspur city limits sign alongside northbound lanes on Highway 101 to be changed from 6,215 to the corect figure of 8,200.
10. Adjourned to 8 p.m. Wednesday, when they will meet with the library board to discuss City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst's recommendation that they trim the city library budget by denying raises to the library staff.

Fire Investigation Nearly Completed

Investigation into the alleged setting of six Chileno Valley grass fires by an Army staff sergeant was reported nearly completed today by district attorney's investigators.

They said only a few reports submitted to the State Division of Forestry are still lacking to conclude the evidence. The sergeant, Robert B. Reed, 25, has been confined to his base at Two Rock Ranch Station in Sonoma County to await possible criminal action.

The fires mainly occurred in the Two Rock area during June and last month.

Budget To Allow Tax Reduction

Ross Valley Sanitary District Board last night adopted a budget which will allow a three-cent reduction in the district's tax rate, from 14 cents to 11 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The budget adopted is for $139,605, a $9,995 decrease from last year's budget of $149,600 District Manager Ralph C. Noah said assessed valuation in the district rose 20 per cent this year. The tax rate decrease, he said, is 22 per cent and the budget decrease is 7 per cent.

Tiburon Gunplay Suspect In Court

Robert Frederick Pope, 27, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Sheriff's Deputy William R. Keaton.

Pope, of 1 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito, allegedly shot Keaton with the officer's own off-duty gun during a scuffle at Prince Charlie Inn, Tiburon, last Sunday. Pope is free on $5,000 bail. Keaton was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital where he is being treated for a bullet wound in the left thigh.

Rules Say Guns Carried In Holster

Replying to a county supervisor's query, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today his department policy is that full-time officers must carry a .38 caliber pistol, proper identification, and a badge at all times upon leaving their homes.

Purpose for the rule, he said, is that an officer is actually on duty 24 hours a day, and is expected to enforce laws whether actually working his eight-hour shift, or not.

Sheriff Mountanos also declared that regulations demand that off-duty weapons be snubnosed, and that they be worn in a holster, with a safety strap securing it so it cannot be dropped accidentally or taken away.

The comments followed a request by Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen for information on sheriff's policy in light of the Sunday shooting in a Tiburon bar of a deputy sheriff, William R. Keaton.

The suspect, Robert Frederick Pope, 27, of 1 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito, allegedly grabbed Keaton's off-duty gun from the officer, and Keaton was shot during the scuffle in his attempt to retrieve it. Pope has been charged with felony assault with a deadly weapon.

Sheriff Mountanos said he is investigating the incident to see if there has been any infractions of department policy. Keaton had been scheduled to work, but called in sick.

Gas Chamber Date Announced

A death date has been set for a third occupant of San Quentin Prison's Death Row.

The prison yesterday received a death warrant for Edmund Earl Reeves for Oct. 11. Reeves, 28, was convicted in Kern County of the robbery-murder of Floyd Parsons, an oil field laborer, March 25, 1965.

Two other Death Row occupants have earlier death dates. Ernest Leroy Jacobson, 26, is scheduled to die Aug. 17 in the prison's gas chamber, and Dorman Fred Talbot Jr. is to die Sept. 14. No one has died in San Quentin's gas chamber since Jan. 23, 1963.

Legion, San Rafael Plan Rec Center

San Rafael Parks and Recreation commissioners last night assured American Legion representatives that the "door is open" for the city and Wilkins Post 37 jointly to finance a community center at Albert Park.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said the city has included funds in the fiscal 1967 budget to start the center, but needs the cooperation of the legion.

UP TO MEMBERS

The tentative proposal is for the post to contribute $100,000 toward the building—expected to cost $165,000. In return, the legion would have use of the center for Tuesday meetings and up to 12 times a year for special events.

R. H. (Dick) Miehling, secretary of the post's board of building control, explained that the post could not spend the funds for a building until a majority of members approved.

"The members will have to go along with putting up a memorial building as a recreation center," he said.

OPENS TO PUBLIC

Commissioners and legion representatives agreed that the center would serve a dual purpose and would be open to use by the general public.

Miehling said the post wanted assurance that it would have "long term protection" regarding its use of the building.

The commission requested City Atty. David Menary Jr. to draft a proposed occupancy license which would give the post the right to use the building and would set the terms for use.

This, they agreed, would provide the post's board with something to present to legion members.

Commissioners also heard a strong protest from four residents against night lighting at Santa Margarita Valley Park at the end of De La Guerra Road.

NEIGHBOR OBJECTS

Mrs. M. F. Hughes of 93 De La Guerra Road contended that the lighting would promote night activity in a park intended to be a daytime park.

Commissioner Charles L. Tacchi replied that lights are being installed in the park to deter vandalism and loitering. "When parks are without lights, you have problems of vandalism," he said.

Mrs. Hughes particularly opposed a light near a multi-purpose use area, which she felt would encourage night activities. "Lighting destroys the concept of closing at dusk," she said.

Commissioners agreed that the three lights planned for the park, now under development, should remain. They agreed, however, that if any problems arise because of the lights they can remove them.

"The park is not up yet," said Commissioner Troy E. Lewis. "If the lights are a problem, we can take them out."

Residents also wanted assurance that there would be police protection in the park area. Councilman Harry Barbier, who was visiting the meeting, said that protection in the Terra Linda area of San Rafael is good. "We have a special police beat in Terra Linda."

Commissioner Dino J. Ghilotti was absent.

Mill Valley Library Closes For Switch

The 50-year old Mill Valley Public Library, endowed by the Andrew Carnegie Foundation, was closed today to begin its historic move from 50 Lovell Avenue to a new building at 375 Throckmorton Avenue.

Both libraries will be closed during the moving of books and equipment to the new library. The new library will open at 10 a.m. Aug. 22. Books due may be returned at either library and no fines will be charged.

Navy Probing Activities Of Saigon's 'U.S. Mayor'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. Navy Capt. Archie C. Kuntze, often referred to by friends as the American mayor of Saigon, is on leave in the United States while the commandant of the 12th Naval District studies a Board of Inquiry's report on allegations of personal misconduct.

Until June, when the Army took over the operation from the Navy, Kuntze for almost two years directed one of the biggest businesses in South Viet Nam, providing logistic support for 137,000 American troops.

His Headquarters Support Activity Saigon had 9,052 Vietnamese on the payroll and poured $13.2 million into the local economy in 1965. It was responsible for billeting and feeding troops and operating hospitals, ports and post exchanges in much of South Viet Nam.

Kuntze, 45, a career naval officer, was reassigned to the 12th Naval District Headquarters here.

The New York Times, in a dispatch from Saigon, said the Naval Board of Inquiry in Saigon filed seven specifications accusing Kuntze of currency violations, misappropriation of government funds and personal indiscretions.

A Navy spokesman in San Francisco said "A decision as to what disciplinary action, if any, will be taken in this case is not expected in the immediate future."

House Break-In

Ronald F. Chasteen of 105 Allyn Avenue, San Anselmo, complained to police yesterday that someone broke into his house through an unlocked window the day before and stole items worth $193. Reported stolen were a portable stereo set, typewriter, radio, two guitars and a child's walkie-talkie set.

Door-To-Door Campaign On For Witnesses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some 3,500 Jehovah's Witnesses are ringing doorbells and knocking on doors today throughout the San Francisco Bay Area.

During their three-day door-to-door missionary campaign, they hope to visit every home in San Francisco, Oakland and the Peninsula.

Over 36,500 Witnesses from eight western states are meeting in San Francisco's Candlestick Park for a five-day convention ending Sunday.

At yesterday's session the Witnesses were told of recurring persecution of members in Portugal and Cuba.

A. H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, which supports the religious organization, told the convention that 49 Witnesses were arrested in Portugal last month for their refusal to serve in the military or salute a flag.

Timbukto, the fabled Sahara city once jealously guarded against Europeans, still sharpens its daggers for infidels, but only to sell as souvenirs. The most romantic town in the African republic of Mali, Timbukto has dwindled into a minor trading center, but spruced-up hotel facilities refresh visitors delighting in its mud houses, minarets and camel caravans.

Ross Psychiatric Center In Do-Or-Die Spot Again

IT'S "DO OR DIE" for Marin County's only private non-profit psychiatric clinic, Ross Psychiatric Center.

Thanks to an appropriation of county funds, the Center was rescued from going under in June or July.

Now it has until October 1 to raise enough funds to extend its life.

In its two and a half years of existence, the Center has helped more than 750 individuals. This represents a rate of one NEW patient every working day (as distinguished from Saturdays, Sundays and holidays).

Many who are helped come from middle-income families. They are ineligible for public assistance but unable to pay the high costs of private psychiatric care. The Center has served them on an ability-to-pay basis. Altogether, patients have met about one-third the cost of operating the Center thus far. The balance has come from government and private foundation grants.

More people in the economic circumstances of those helped so far will need help in the future. The Center should be continued in operation to provide the help that's needed.

The whole field of medical research, medical training and medical care has become so costly that it is in headlong flight from private to government dependence.

Government assistance unquestionably is needed all along the line. But private medicine—including psychiatric care—must not disappear.

Many doctors recognized long ago that a measure of private influence and control must be maintained over private medical training, research and care. The common good would NOT be served by every policy decision coming from government.

The same can be said for psychiatric care. The common good would NOT be served by having government provide all psychiatric care and thereby deciding how all such care was to be administered.

Of course the very rich might still be able to obtain private care, but that would not provide balance against government influence in the field.

Continuing and strengthening facilities like the Ross Psychiatric Center would provide a valuable private alternative to government care and would provide a place where care can, if it seems best, be given according to policies other than those emanating from government bureaus.

The Marin Mental Health Foundation is currently conducting a drive for funds to insure future operation of the Ross Psychiatric Center. It is to be hoped that some substantial donations come from well-to-do supporters to add to the many modest donations from friends and relatives of grateful recipients of Ross Psychiatric Center care.

RULES FOR HAPPY MARRIAGE

On the eve of their 70th wedding anniversary, a couple in Pittsfield, Mass., were asked their advice on how to live a long and happy married life.

Here are the four rules they came up with:

1. Keep active.
2. Be temperate.
3. Trust in God.
4. Take a nap every afternoon.

"The happiness of married life," said John Selden (1584-1654), "depends upon making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness."

This idea was put in another way by Douglas Jerrold (1803-1857): "The last word is the most infernal of machines, and the husband and wife should no more fight to get it than they would struggle for the possession of a lighted bombshell."

The contract of marriage was elevated by Christ to a mutual giving of self that is honored in heaven. Its Author will always provide, both partners the strength to live up to its awesome promises.

"What, therefore, God has joined together let no man put asunder." (Mark 10:9)

Keep ever before me, Lord, the sanctity of marriage, and inspire me to preserve it.

Brown's Fishing Trip Odd Mix Of Roughing It, Home Comforts

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Going into the back country on a fishing trip with Gov. Edmund G. Brown these days brings about a strange and interesting mixture of roughing it and the comforts of home.

While the governor was several hours by horseback from the nearest habitation, he still was never very far removed from contact with any of the trials of state government.

SITE FOR BROWN'S eighth annual pack trip (he's made all but one and missed that in 1964 because of a broken ankle) was the Jamison drainage area in southern Plumas County. It's a rugged country with steep brush and timber-covered hills and granite cliffs and peaks.

The gubernatorial camp was set up on Wade's Lake, most accessible of several lakes in the basin. However, side trips were made to Upper and Lower Spencer lakes, Rock, Jamison, Grass and Smith lakes.

Due to his schedule, the governor's pack trip is almost always doomed to mediocre fishing. Mountain lakes are tops for trouting when the snow clears in the spring and when the weather cools in September and October. But July and August are the real doldrums and the larger fish just won't rise.

AS IT WAS, fish were plentiful for those who tried for them in the Jamison basin, but the size was dissappointing. As a matter of fact, most of the lakes in the basin are under-fished and plagued with too many fish. This keeps the trout, mostly Eastern brook, from reaching larger sizes.

Governor Brown's trips are a test of the ingenuity of the Department of Fish and Game personnel who arrange them and manage the camp. A past master was in charge this year, George Warner, who holds the rank of regional manager and presently is heading up the study of fish and wildlife problems in the delta.

Warner runs a tight camp and let it be known right at the start he didn't welcome the campers kicking up the dust by hanging around his kitchen area. But those on the trip were more than rewarded by staying out of Warner's way.

BREAKFAST was served at the convenience of the early and late risers. Dinners were topped off with such things as fresh-baked apple pie and strawberry shortcake.

All of this was packed in, too, down a steep trail leading off a 9,000-foot ridge.

William Peterson, supervisor of the million-acre Plumas National Forest, was a member of the party and had his two-way radio equipment. This kept the party informed on the weather—which included some sprinkles at times—as well as any emergencies which might have arisen for the governor.

Opinions Count, Not Statistics

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There has been much talk lately that President Johnson has failed bitterly in uniting the American people behind the banner of the Administration's Viet Nam policies. I like to think of this as more of an achievement on the people's part than a failure on the President's part.

When the people express their opinions, they are exercising two of our most valuable possessions: Freedom to think and freedom to speak. Popular dissent is often the key to popular unity; and the pulse of the public often determines our national policy.

Thousands of different views on Viet Nam have been expressed. This variation of opinion indicates that Viet Nam is a complex problem: A problem which no one formula or no one man will solve. America has survived only because she has been open-minded and willing to listen to her citizens. Her citizens realize only too well that there are no simple answers, but only grim and complex alternatives.

I join thousands of people in urging our popularity-minded President to pay less attention to the pure statistics of polls and more attention to the varied opinions the polls represent.

Hospital Shoe Fits Other Foot

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have in my possession a copy of a "Head Nurses Proposal" supposed to have been handed to the Board of Marin General Hospital by the then Administrator, Mr. Turner, but it appears that this document was never mentioned in any of the present conversations about an increase of salary for Nurses.

This document shows that the Nurses are dedicated to their profession and that their interests are directed more to those who have to take advantage of the use of a Hospital.

In the past the public has been made to believe that Nurses are mostly interested in money.

It seems to me that the shoe fits on the other foot. When you consider the offer which has been made by the Board of an over-all raise of $60 per month, which is $2 per day on about 130 nurses. And then try to figure out how the members of the Board arrived at the figure of blanket raise in the daily rate to the Patients of $6 per day on a capacity of about 200 patients.

I have always felt that a great deal of laxity exists between the members of the Board and the actual happenings in the Hospital, that their communication is through the Administrator only who in turn will keep the members informed of the matters which will show him in good light.

Cranston Support Surprises Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was not surprised by the babbling of our State Controller Alan Cranston; the sweetheart of the extreme left. I must admit that I was amazed that you "laud him" in your editorial.

I state categorically that the program of the John Birch Society is NOT anti-Sematic, anti-Negro, or anti-Catholic. For your information and from my personal observations approximately 50 per cent of the local membership is Catholic. We have both Jewish and Negro members. Some of our Jewish members recently started a new organization called "the Jewish Society for Americanism." We have eight full time Negro speakers in our speakers bureau. We continually strive to bring into the Society members of all minority groups and members of all religious faiths.

We believe in the Constitution of the United States, the capitalistic free enterprise system and individual freedom. The vast majority of us believe in God.

We are against Communism, Socialism, Nazism, Fascism and other forms of collectivism. Some other forms of collectivism include the phony "Great Society" and its predecessors, "the New Deal," "the Fair Deal," and "the New Frontier." The only label we buy is "Americanism."

Yes, Mr. Cranston has issued his report, which I understand he financed himself, and he got the predetermined results he paid for. After all it's an old axiom that "the customer is always right," or is it "left" in this case.

I suggest you place your trust in the 61 page report prepared in 1963 by the State of California Senate Subcommittee of Un-American Activities. I think you will find it draws a different and unbiased conclusion about the John Birch Society.

I here and now invite ALL citizens of good character, who love our country and believe in our system, to attend a public "secret" presentation of the John Birch Society. We welcome you WITHOUT regard to race, color or creed. Come, and help us save our Republic from the tyranny of collectivism.

Equity Wanted In Assessment

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Reader (Harold) Sonnenberg ("Land Developers Privileged" July 28) has pointed out a very grave discrepancy in the assessment practice being followed by the county assessor in granting favorable tax treatment to land developers to the dertiment of all other property taxpayers in the county.

Mr. Sonnenberg has suggested that possibly this should be made the subject of an investigation on the part of the county grand jury, to which I heartily agree. And at the same time perhaps we could ask the grand jury to consider some of the other assessment practices being followed which result in an inequitable sharing of the very heavy tax burden we are all being asked to bear. As an example, this year for the first time many homeowners have been given a complete exemption from personal property assessment on the theory that their assessed value did not exceed the statutory $100 exemption allowed all taxpayers, but others of us, because our house was valued in excess of an arbitrary figure set by the essessor are presumed to have furnishings worth several times those who are now exempted.

My house is valued at 20 per cent higher than my neighbor's but my personal property, which was not seen by the appraiser, is valued at over 500 per cent of his. Where is the equity in this type of assessing?

BENNETT CERF

SO YOU THINK census takers have an easy time of it? Not at all, reports a census bureau statistician. In Hot Springs, Ark., last year, for instance, a census enumerator was chased by a flock of geese; in Bluefield, West Va., by a Brahma bull, and Altadena, Calif., by a pet raccoon. A census taker in Charlotte, N.C., suffered the prime indignity. She was treed for two hours by an angry rooster.

No Rusk Heir Apparent In Sight Despite Broadsides Of Critics

WASHINGTON — What is Dean Rusk going to be doing in the future?

He is going to keep serving as Secretary of State.

The get-out-of-Viet-Nam critics, who are trying to undercut his position in the Johnson administration, face three obstacles:

The President's total support of Rusk.

The Cabinet's unanimous desire that he stay on the job.

The great resentment in Congress if there were any change.

THERE ISN'T going to be any change. Mr. Rusk has no intention of stepping down. Mr. Johnson has no intention of asking him to leave or allowing him to do so.

I have watched the ups and downs of every Secretary of State who helped to shape American foreign policy from Hitler to Ho Chi Minh. For the most part, they provide impressive evidence of ability. These men include Cordell Hull, Edward Stettinius, James Byrnes, George Marshall, Dean Acheson, John Foster Dulles, Christian Herter, and Rusk.

Marshall had unusual prestige. Acheson had unusual talent. Dulles had unusual influence. Obviously Mr. Rusk does not exceed—perhaps does not equal—any of these three outstanding Secretaries of State where they were strongest. But what is evident today is that Rusk has a combination of these qualities—prestige, influence, and professional talent—which has not been matched at the top of the State Department for many years.

DEAN RUSK'S prestige in Washington — within the administration, within Congress, and within the foreign diplomatic corps—seems to me to come from three things: his capacity for clear thinking, his capacity for calmness under stress, his capacity for listening. I doubt that there is an ambassador in town, and few foreign ministers abroad, who does not consider him approachable, courteous, understanding.

Some of his critics—and no Secretary worth anything is without them—suggest he is over-occupied with Viet Nam, neglectful of other issues. He has long been the strongest force within the Kennedy and Johnson administrations in favor of defending South Viet Nam against aggression. He is totally identified with President Johnson's decision to do so. Probably no single matter commands the thought of Rusk as much as Viet Nam with its worldwide implications. But if you followed his daily schedule, it would be evident that his recurring concerns travel through the whole range of diverse problems from the emerging regionalism of the western Pacific to the changing regionalism of Western Europe.

THE FEW WHO would like to see Rusk's influence — his steadiness and determination — removed from Washington know that frontal attack has lost its value. Instead they spread the rumor that he is weary, eager to shed his heavy burdens, can't stand the pace much longer.

This is the current tactic of those who oppose what Rusk stands for and would like to find some way to add a few recruits to the "Poor Dean Rusk Must Go Club."

Rusk is not going to go. He is not going to ask the President to relieve him of his burdens. He has assured the White House he will remain as long as the President wants him. There isn't a flicker of intention within Mr. Johnson's mind not to want him.

The President will soon have to name two new Under Secretaries of State. Neither of them will be heir-apparent to Rusk. He is his own heir-apparent.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Shocking Execution Being Kept Secret

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is imposing a tight curtain of secrecy on the beheading by North Vietnamese of an escaping U.S. airman.

Details of this Communist atrocity, the most recent of a number committed against U.S. prisoners of war, reached the White House from Saigon at the same time as Hanoi officials were disclaiming intentions of trying captured American pilots.

After studying both reports the President directed that the Hanoi announcement, then being widely broadcast by a U.S. network, could be confirmed, but that no mention be made of the grisly report from Saigon.

The Defense Department was directed to release no details of the brutal murder to either the press or inquiring members of Congress.

THE SLAYING of the unarmed airman was reported by Lieutenant Dieter Dengler, Navy pilot who had escaped with him from a prison camp in northern Laos, and who is now recovering in a West Coast hospital. During Dengler's debriefing in Saigon, he related an eye-witness account of how his fleeing comrade was caught and beheaded by North Vietnamese soldiers.

Dengler's stark report was so shocking that President Johnson and his inner advisers decided to suppress it for the time being because of concern that its publication in the midst of the tense furore over the fate of other captured U.S. pilots might provoke a storm of demands for harsh retaliatory measures against North Viet Nam.

Fear was voiced that such public clamor might react adversely against U.S. pilots in Communist hands.

THE VICIOUS slaying has led to considerable discussion in inner congressional quarters on what can or should be done about bringing before the world the full story of the many atrocities committed by the Vietnamese Communists.

THE LAWMAKERS are considering making a direct appeal to the President to send a warning through diplomatic channels to Ho Chi Minh that if these atrocities continue, he and his lieutenants will be held personally responsible.

"If anyone should be tried as war criminals," Representative Rivers declared at a meeting of the group, "it is Ho Chi Minh and those around him who initiated this barbarous aggression against South Viet Nam. Those men are responsible for hundreds of thousands of war deaths and tens of thousands of assassinations, including women and children. Their hands are dripping with the blood of innocent people."

For examination by the Armed Services Committee, Rivers has specifically asked the Pentagon for reports on the slaying of four wounded Marines after being captured by North Vietnamese in a recent encounter near the 17th Parallel, and the execution of Sergeant Harold Bennett, who was captured last year.

THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS Committee, which is gathering information on atrocities committed against both U.S. and South Vietnamese personnel, is documenting the case of Joseph Grainger, 39-year-old Connecticut AID official who was murdered by Communist captors; the committee also is seeking information on what the administration has done to obtain the release of a half dozen U.S. civilians, among them Gustav Hertz, highest ranking prisoner in Viet Cong hands.

Marriage Vehicle Is Whirlybird; Hub Has Knotty Street Problem

Holy harpstrings, Batman! Could this be that pop culture everyone is talking about?

Saturday will be a big day for marriages. As everyone knows, that is the day Luci B. will exchange vows with her white knight, Pat.

Perhaps, though, not everyone is aware that, on the same day, Claudette Bochino of 119 Alta Vista, Mill Valley, and Larry Rawley of San Francisco will wed in St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. It will be just as memorable an occasion, especially for Claudette and Larry.

THOUGH THEIR wedding will not be a television spectacular, the local couple is planning a hip variation to the wedding tradition. The story was spilled the other day by the bride's daddy, Larry Bochino. He cannot keep a secret.

For the most part, he said with pride, it will be the traditional wedding. Church services, followed by a reception at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. There will be a cake cutting and toasts to the bride and groom.

HOWEVER — here his eyes began to twinkle mischieviously — there will not be the traditional getaway car with bon mots painted on its sides and tin cans trailing the exhaust pipes.

How can this be? Well, says papa, the vehicle the bride and groom will exit in will be—you betchum Red Ryder—a helicopter.

Should they, when widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, do as a traffic engineer recommends and make San Anselmo Avenue one-way or severely cut back on parking spaces there, leaving it two-way? The engineer has staked his reputation that this is the only way it will work. Merchants of the ailing business district warn of calamity if either of these plans are used.

SHOULD THEY abandon, or postpone indefinitely, plans to widen Drake? The county and cities, who have put up funds so the project can be completed, will be displeased. The state, which has provided gas tax funds for right-of-way purchases for the roadway, may demand reimbursement for the funds already used.

Should they, as some councilmen suggested at the last meeting, ignore the experts and go ahead with the Drake widening, but leave San Anselmo Avenue untouched? The state, which is providing most of the funds for the project, might not approve.

If it did and the project were attempted, there would surely come the time when critics could laugh and point as councilmen tried to pick up the pieces of their failure. The cost of correcting the mistake at that point would surely be much more than the price of preventive action today.

10 YEARS AGO

MORRIE RYSKIND

Nuremberg War Trial Chickens Come Home To Roost In Hanoi

SHOULD HO CHI MINH go through with his plan to try our captured flyers as war criminals, he'd better learn to swim faster than nine miles an hour, for he'd find few American doves left. Even Senators Fulbright and Morse would probably be volunteering to go on missions to strafe Hanoi and demanding Secretary McNamara speed up the delivery of the napalm bombs they needed.

And yet the sad fact is that Ho's savage threat comes from a witches' brew of our own making. The chickens we threw into the pot at Nuremberg gave him a precedent, and those chickens have now come home to roost.

With our "allies," the Russians, we acted at those trials as both prosecutors and judges, abandoning our great Anglo-Saxon legal tradition in favor of ex post facto law. And when Bob Taft arose in the Senate to appeal to our consciences, few were stirred. Indeed, this very speech was later made the basis of a whispering campaign to show he was "anti-Semitic."

AT NUREMBERG, we sifted evidence together with representatives of a regime fully as blood-stained as the Nazi. It had ruthlessly exterminated kulaks because they were not peasants, and peasants because they could not meet their quotas; it had, in violation of treaties, overrun neighboring countries and either swallowed them whole into the USSR or installed Quisling heads of government; and, beyond any question of doubt, it had perpetrated the infamous Katyn Massacre—which it afterward blamed on the Germans.

And it had, after years of crying "Anti-fascism" as a rallying call, signed a pact with Hitler himself and welcomed his ambassador to Moscow with the Nazi flags flying all over the city.

And who was America's official Chief Counsel at this barbarous travesty of justice? None other than an august member of our Supreme Court: Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson.

THAT WOULD BE bad enough, but last night I came across another item about Justice Jackson that is highly relevant. Twisting the TV dials for the late news, I chanced on a local program conducted by Joe Pyne, who was interviewing George Davis, a San Francisco attorney.

Mr. Davis has apparently had some interesting clients, including Caryl Chessman and one of the Krupps. Asked about the latter, he explained: "Gustav Krupp, the munitions manufacturer, has been indicted as one of the war criminals, but became ill and died. Whereupon Justice Jackson argued that world opinion demanded one of the Krupps be tried, and his son was substituted."

Now that is an interesting concept and shows the Justice knows at least that part of the Old Testament which promises vengeance till the third or fourth generation. But, a little later in that history, the Lord amended that law, I recall, and promised to spare the children punishment for the sins of their fathers. I must sadly conclude the Justice was a dropout from his Biblical studies.

Nor could he have gone very far with his Blackstone. Though I never studied law, I doubt the Justice's position would be sanctioned by any law school this side of the Iron Curtain. Why, even the Hatfields and the McCoys have abandoned it.

AND CERTAINLY Bob Taft didn't approve. Nor, for that matter, do I. I am fully prepared to acknowledge all my heresies and throw myself at the mercy of the court—even the Warren court. But when I go, for heaven's sake don't hound my son. He's really a nice kid, even if he does vote Republican.

Incidentally, I have a neighbor—Major General Leroy H. Watson, retired—who was at the trials. At the time he was Military Commander of the Nuremberg Conclave, and it was his job to see that the thousands of documents were translated into all the necessary languages for both prosecution and defense.

Some time ago, I was discussing the proceedings with him and recalled Taft's judgement that we had sacrificed infinitely more than we had gained by the trials.

THE GENERAL nodded his head in emphatic agreement. "But," he said, "you must admit the trials proved one thing."

"What was that?" I asked.

"That we'd better win the next war," he said grimly. "Otherwise we'll all be hanged."

20 YEARS AGO

The 2,100-acre Payne Shafter ranch near Olema was sold to the Vedanta Society of Northern California, with price reported as $165,000.

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce recommended that revenue from city parking meters should be used for street repairs and improvements.

The city of Larkspur received word that the Federal Works Agency will allocate $3,000 for plans for a new city sewage disposal system.

Traffic Jams Ridiculous; Let's Honor Florida

It is ridiculous the way most of Marin's booming population lines up on Highway 101 every morning in a three-lane, five-mile traffic jam.

This, at least, was the sentiment of the California Depopulation Commission as expressed last week in an official "Caldepop" bulletin.

Caldepop, dedicated to reducing California's population, and operating out of Box 946 in Ross, has declared August the second annual "Florida Appreciation Month," a month when "Californians face southeast and acknowledge that if it weren't for this beautiful, glamorous Florida with its tax-free sunshine, lovely women, and magnificent beaches, California would be much more crowded than it is."

During the month, a citation—appended with cards from California residents praising Florida and its citizens—will be sent to Florida's governor, "probably by truck or train," according to Caldepop founder and director David C. Camp.

Trustees To Meet

Mill Valley library trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the library. The date has been moved ahead from Aug. 11 to permit planning for the new library open house on Aug. 21, Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, librarian, said.

CREAMPUFF '64 BUICK SKYLARKS $1995
We're offering 2 of the cleanest used cars that we've had the good fortune to own in recent months. Both are locally owned one-owner 2-dr. hardtops that we sold new in 1964 and have just taken back on new Buicks. White with red bucket seats and fully equipped including power steering, automatic, radio, heater and w/w tires. Champagne Mist w/black vinyl buckets. Power steering, power brakes, power windows and all the Skylark luxury. Both are low mileage cars . . . you can tell that when you look at them. Blue Book lists them at $2195. We will sell this week for only $1995.

Crack U.S. Division To Viet Nam

By DONALD ZYLSTRA
Advance News Service

Following Pentagon policy, the Army won't say that the Fourth Infantry has left the United States until all its units and equipment have arrived overseas.

But the tipoff that the division is combat-ready and being deployed to Southeast Asia was its recent disappearance from the Army's list of regular divisions stationed in the United States.

The Fourth Infantry is highly skilled in amphibious warfare, and this may or may not be a factor in its war assignment. The Army won't comment on this aspect. But this "significant capability" would be available if needed to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the top commander in Viet Nam.

The division will probably follow a rather leisurely pace in moving into action, if previous division movements are any indication. Its three brigades are likely to move one by one. That was the pattern when the 25th Division was sent to Viet Nam.

With the departure of the Fourth Infantry, four Army regular divisions and most of a fifth will remain stationed in the United States.

Until recent months, these U.S. divisions were burdened with large numbers of trainees, and their combat readiness fell to a new low.

The situation has improved, however. Since May 10, no trainees had been assigned to these U.S.-based divisions.

This is an indication that the Army's 16 training bases are now able to cope with the need for more troops in Viet Nam. The trainees had been sent to the divisions previously because the training bases were swamped.

In another month even the newest recruits now in the stateside divisions will have completed 90 days of training, and these divisions will return to a condition of combat readiness, barring unforeseen new manpower demands.

The last official report in mid-July said American forces in Viet Nam totaled 280,000. Of these, more than 165,000 were Army troops.

So far this year American forces in Viet Nam increased at the rate of about 18,000 per month. Because of expiring enlistments, casualties and other attrition, the number of new inductees into the Armed Services each month is about twice that number.

Missing Girls Found; One Fatally Shot

PINOLE (AP) — Youngsters, playing near a railroad track Wednesday, found a teen-aged girl's body. Nearby was another girl, scarcely alive.

Both girls, missing since Monday, were found along Southern Pacific Co. track northwest of Pinole, a San Francisco Bay Area city of 6,064.

The two, both Pinole residents, were found lying in underbrush.

Contra Costa County sheriff's investigators refused to comment on whether the girls had been raped. Both were found partially disrobed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

One Out Of Five Women Usually Found To Have Fibroid Tumors

VAN DELLEN

It has been estimated that one out of five women harbors fibroid tumors of the uterus. One to more than a dozen may be present varying in size from a pebble to grapefruit. Occasionally they reach enormous proportions and one of the largest ever reported weighed 140 pounds. Women with massive fibroids become so accustomed to their burden that they are amazed at the relief obtained when the mass is removed. The majority confess they never realized how uncomfortable they must have been.

Fibroids form soon after puberty and are found almost exclusively in that part of the uterus concerned with menstrual function. The exact cause is not known but it is believed that they are caused by abnormal ovarian secretions. The manifestations vary but prolonged menstruation is common except among those who have passed the menopause.

BLOOD LOSS IS in no way related to the size and number of tumors. A small one in the right place may lead to profuse hemorrhage. Bleeding during the menopause may be so excessive that an emergency operation must be performed. In younger women such tumors interfere with childbearing.

The mere presence of a fibroid does not imply that treatment is essential. Small lesions are checked periodically and nothing need be done when they do not change in size. The need for surgery is variable. In older women removal of the uterus (hysterectomy) generally is recommended when the lesions are large and bleeding.

YOUNGER WOMEN desirous of having more children, usually can have the growths removed without excising the uterus. Radium and X-ray also are utilized and are of value during the menopause, especially when hemorrhage is copious and the tumors are small. The physician also takes into consideration the knowledge that fibroids tend to shrink after the menopause.

Dilatation and curettage (D and C) of the uterus is suggested when fibroids cannot be distinguished from cancer. The scrapings are sent to the laboratory for analysis and the decision to operate depends upon the outcome.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

MONEY SAVING PLAN

Mrs. M. writes: One of my children has asthma and the other, chronic bronchitis. My husband thinks we would save money by giving both the same medicine. I disagree. Would you please arbitrate?

REPLY

If your husband has had more experience than your physician in handling cases of this nature, let him proceed.

INFECTION FOLLOWING BRUISE

M. G. writes: Could a bone bruise cause osteomyelitis?

REPLY

Yes. Now and then the infection (osteomyelitis) follows injuries so slight they cannot even be remembered.

THYROID AND PREGNANCY

Mrs. P. J. writes: Could an underactive thyroid cause a series of miscarriages?

REPLY

This is a possibility, but because there are many other causes a more thorough investigation is in order.

SHOULDER BURSITIS

Mrs. E. F. writes: How long does it take for an arm to return to normal after an attack of bursitis of the shoulder?

REPLY

In some instances, relief has followed the use of ACTH or cortisone within a day of two.

When Others Use Your Land

The Topps and the Bottoms were next door neighbors. Each owned large triangular, odd-shaped lots on a hill. The Bottoms' roadway ran between the two lots. For some years the Bottoms had rounded the corner of their roadway to get onto the main street easily, thus crossing a part of the Topps' land.

Five years after the Bottoms first began this practice, the Topps built a fence right down their property line making it hard for the Bottoms to turn onto the main highway. Large trucks or cars with trailers could not make it at all.

At first the Bottoms threatened to tear down the fence. Then they sued the Topps and asked the court to declare that the road was theirs to use as of right. They wanted the court to order the Topps to take down the fence.

Nobody doubted that the land belonged to the Topps, the court said, but the Bottoms' use of the Topps' land for more than five years gave them a "right-of-way easement" over it. The court ordered the Topps to take down the fence and let the Bottoms drive over that part of their land.

Other people can gain rights to your land if they take it or use it, claiming the right against your will. After a time —usually five years—the rights thus become permanent.

Landowners should check their land every so often to see that no one is using it or encroaching upon it. They should order any intruder to get off. A property owner can do many other things short of court action. For example, he may ask the unwanted user to stop or charge him a small rental to use the driveway or piece of land. In the end, the landowner may have to go to court.

"Squatters" are persons who know that they are on someone else's land at the owner's grace. They have no "claim of right" and gain no rights to the land because they recognize the owner's rights.

No one can gain right against government land by using or staying on the land. The government can remove such persons at any time. Of course, government leases or special laws do give such rights to some users.

There are other kinds of easements such as the right to pasture; to fish; to take minerals, wood, water; to receive light, air or heat; to discharge water to flood another's land or to use a party wall.

Other users may share some of these rights. When the general public shares such a right

San Anselmo Man Is Arraigned On Felony Charge

William Joseph Sunke, 31, of 176 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony complaint of two counts of forgery.

Plea entry was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. next Thursday, when a co-defendant, Dolores R. Arnold, 34, of 254 Flamingo Road, Tamalpais Valley, is also scheduled for plea entry.

The pair, brother and sister, allegedly forged a deed of trust April 13 with intent to defraud Pacific Coast Title Co., Mill Valley, and Mrs. Arnold's husband, Murray Arnold.

They also allegedly forged an $881.89 check.

Bail for Sunke, a car salesman in San Francisco, was set at $1,000. Mrs. Arnold is free on her recognizance.

Deadly Dog Pack Kills 5-Year-Old

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A massive armed search was to resume at dawn today for the last of three Great Danes that killed a 5-year-old girl and mauled her playmate in savage attacks near here yesterday.

Late last night, a 300-member search party rounded up two of the dogs near where the attacks had occurred at about noon in suburban Prince Georges County, Md.

Police identified the children as Sharon K. Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sparks, and James Barney, 6, son of Army Sgt. and Mrs. Hugh Barney, both of Parkland, Md.

The Barney child remained hospitalized in poor condition today, but officials said he would recover.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Hey, Ladies, Football's All Set For Prime Time

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comes the professional football season and many a wife considers suing the television networks for alienation of affections. Her husband is lost to her from opening kickoff to final whistle game after game after game.

Today CBS-TV had some further bad news for the football widows coupled with some good, though unofficial, advice. The news is that at least four of its National Football League games this year, starting with a pre-season clash between the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers Aug. 12, will be televised in prime time.

JOIN 'EM

The advice dates back to the Civil War, which also divided families: If you can't lick 'em join 'em. And CBS claims many wives willing to make the effort are doing just that—discovering some of the same visual excitement their husbands find in the skill and spectacle of our most popular national game.

The ladies are very much in the mind of William C. MacPhail, vice president of CBS-TV sports, as he contemplates the coming season and his networks' expenditure of $40,000,000 for the privilege of broadcasting the NFL. He doesn't have to worry about American men who are already fans to the point where watching the games is an obsession.

"We think we're also getting the ladies," MacPhail said in his office high above the Avenue of the Americas. "More and more of them actually attended the stadiums and presumably this reflects greater numbers in front of the television screens.

PLAYER'S WIVES

"Some women begin watching because they know the game is so attractive to their men folk and they want to know why. I've even heard women asking technical questions about football at cocktail parties. We're aware of this interest. We frequently have the wives of players appear on our Saturday football preview "Countdown To Kickoff."

MacPhail said those women who look in on the pro games this season will find them easier to understand and follow. One reason is the "stop action" technique in which the tape of a vital play is run through again slowly while an expert commentator explains exactly what happened. This was new last year and has been improved since.

A slow motion camera may also be used from time to time and MacPhail hopes that other camera advances will enable all viewers to get a better idea of the subtlety of line play, not usually shown in close up, hence often misjudged by the inexpert.

MacPhail would be completely happy about his prospects for the new season except for the decision of the National and American Football Leagues to stage a world's title game between their champions. CBS paid $2,000,000 for the National Football League championship game which has now become merely a playoff to decide who meets the AFL winner.

"We've been hurt", MacPhail said, "but meetings are under way, there's good feeling and we hope it will be happily resolved."

Marin YMCA Group Starts 19-Day Trip

Forty Marin County teen-agers and their counselors departed today for a 19-day YMCA Camp-on-Wheels trip to the Bar 41 Ranch in Washington.

According to Joanne Tikker, director of the program, the activity is an attempt to aid the YMCA youths in the development of human relation values. The trip will take the group to Shasta, to Portland and Bend, Oregon, and Victoria, British Columbia.

Bobby Seen As Likely President

"He has a following in every state I've been in," Sorenson said yesterday on a television interview program "Ladies of the Press."

"I think Bob Kennedy's mission in life is to do the best job he can in whatever role he is able to play," Sorenson said. "I think that he could very well be president."

Civic Center A Touch Of Home For Visitor

"Frank Lloyd Wright came to Baghdad to design our opera house and I knew him personally," said Jalik Alaka.

Gazing at the county's outstanding attraction, he added, "He was a wonderful man and this is undoubtably his masterpiece."

Alaka, 42, chief of planning for the ministry of works and housing in Baghdad, was paying a day-long visit to Marin as part of the four month tour of America sponsored by the United Nations.

"Wright appeared here to be strongly influenced by the architecture from the Arab conquest of Spain," he said. "We have buildings in Iraq reflecting the same influence."

After meeting with Arthur T. Knutson, deputy county director of public works, Alaka was due to see housing projects in Marin City and the Army Corps of Engineers' bay model in Sausalito.

Parisians To Perform In Music Chest Series

Parisian duo-pianists Josette and Yvette Roman will perform Aug. 14 in San Rafael as the final concert in the Marin Music Chest's summer series.

The performance will be at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows at Dominican College.

The sisters will perform compositions by Mozart, Schumann, Saint-Saens, Debussy, Chopin and Milhaud. The sisters have performed on personal tours and on television in Europe, Great Britain and the United States.

California Traffic Scares Dirty Shame Tavern Owner

After two days back in California, Martin (Buster) Bray, a former Marin resident who operates the Dirty Shame Tavern in Yaak, Montana, since 1958, commented, "I would never come back to this madhouse for anything."

Bray, his wife Alice, and their two sons, Bill 16, and Tim, 15, returned to Marin County this week on vacation. "I was never so scared in my life as I was when we got into California freeway driving," Bray chuckled. "I'd rather face 60 logging trucks in Yaak than two freeway drivers here."

Bray, a former state construction worker and Greenbrae boardwalk resident from 1929 to 1958, bought the Dirty Shame while on vacation in Yaak with his family and a friend. "When we saw the joint we immediately fell in love with it," he recalls.

Yaak, boasting a population of 40 persons, is on the Yaak River in Kootenai National Forest and lies 32 miles from the nearest town and 29,000 feet above sea level. "It's just like it was 200 years ago," Bray said. "We did not even have lights until 1964. We used coal oil at first and then a diesel generator."

Bray explained that he and his family find the pioneer living in Yaak very likable. "We get good TV reception up there and mail comes about three times a week, but there are no phones," he noted. "Up there, if you don't want to do something today, you do it tomorrow. There's no rush."

He also explained that a quaint, one-room elementary school having eight grades and one teacher provides the educational means for Yaak's seven pupils. The nearest high school is in Libby, 32 miles away. "I will probably have to ship my kids over there for high school because the school bus doesn't come out as far as we live," Bray observed.

The residents of Yaak, mostly loggers and homesteaders who have lived there since 1912, comprise the Dirty Shame Tavern's clientele, "although," Bray went on, " clump of tourists comes through every once in a while to look at the joint."

Thirty-Two Strep Cases Reported

Thirty-two cases of streptococcus infection were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week, according to Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Cases were reported in Mill Valley, Corte Madera, San Rafael and Novato.

Other communicable diseases reported to the department last week included 10 cases of gonorrhea, one of mumps, two cases of tuberculosis, one of salmonella food poisoning, and one of infectious hepatitis.

there are more Redwoods than ever

There are, in fact, more than enough large, park-type redwoods in state parks to make a solid row from San Francisco to Washington, D. C. Lyle Klubben, U. S. Forest Service, California Region, has said, "We are constantly hearing about the despoilment of the redwoods, yet there are more redwoods standing today than ever before in our history..."

California's Redwoods will live forever!

The finest old, park-type redwoods are protected in the over 116,000 acres of long-established parklands throughout the region and in the 6,000 acres of outstanding groves being held by private owners until they can be acquired as parklands. California's Chief State Forester has said there is no danger of depletion of the redwoods, but rather, excellent prospects of a "healthy and substantial timber economy in perpetuity."

the Forest Products Industry supports at least 70% of the Redwood Region economy!

Unrealistic and irresponsible park proposals would slash millions of dollars off California's tax rolls needessly and raise your taxes still more. They would wipe out $13,000,000 a year in payrolls and would shut off the millions of investment dollars going into forest products industry expansion programs now underway.

Get the Facts— See for Yourself!

Drive through the redwood region. See for yourself the more than 122,000 acres of park-type redwoods now being preserved, both in state parks and private lands. Visit a redwood demonstration forest. Enjoy the 365,000 acres of taxpaying, privately-owned recreation lands open to all the public for all types of outdoor activity, such as hunting, fishing, hiking and picnicking.

Brodie Richest In Sports?

Haller, Hart, Perry Gang Up On Mets As Giants Breeze

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Haller says he is getting better pitches this year and, as a result, the San Francisco Giants are getting better catching.

His two blasts, which helped the Giants to an 11-1 victory over the Mets, gave him 22 for the season. The most Haller had hit in a season before was 18 in his rookie year in 1962.

"I've been batting second this season," explains Haller, "and as a result I've been getting better pitches with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Jim Hart behind me. I've just been fortunate to hit some of them out of the park."

However,Haller was batting sixth last night and the fellas in front and behind him also saw some good pitches against Met starter Jack Fisher and three relievers.

Hart had three hits, including a grand slam homer that triggered a seven-run seventh inning and broke open a tight 2-0 game. Ollie Brown added four hits.

Haller also saw some fine pitches from pitcher Gaylord Perry, who scattered nine hits for his 16th victory against two defeats, keeping the first-place Giants one game ahead of runner-up Pittsburgh.

"I started a little wild and they hit me early," Perry said, "but that big play in the second helped out."

The score was only 1-0 when John Stephenson singled, Roy McMillan walked and Fisher singled. But Stephenson held at third base although right fielder Brown fumbled Fisher's hit and McMillan was thrown out at second when he rounded the bag too far.

"I might have been out of there if it hadn't been for that play," Perry admitted. "It put the coach and Stephenson in quite a bind when Ollie fumbled the ball and McMillan probably thought Stephenson would try to score."

Captain Mays Explains Why He Needs Occasional Rest

HANLEY

NEW YORK—Willie Mays knew that some fans would misconstrue his taking a rest in the second game of a day-night doubleheader at Atlanta.

Mays didn't have to be told that it didn't look good for the captain of the Giants to be resting when the team was in a three-game skid that was about to become a four-game losing streak.

It was the first time this season that the Giants dropped four-in-a-row and they momentarily fell 1½ games back in the tight National League pennant race. Then 24 hours later the Pirates lost a doubleheader, the Dodgers won and so did the Giants with Mays back in centerfield. Just .003 decimal points separated the three front runners.

"I KNOW how it must have looked to some fans when I didn't play in the night game of that doubleheader at Atlanta," said Mays. "But I know myself better than anyone else. I know what I can and can't do. And I can't play efficiently in a day-night doubleheader.

"They take so much out of me that I'm no good for a couple of days. The last thing I want to do is disappoint baseball fans, particularly youngsters, by not playing in every game. But I must conserve my energy. At 35 I just can't do the things I did when I was 21.

"IT MIGHT appear to some who don't understand me that I'm being selfish when I rest now. I'm not just looking out for me. I'm thinking of what's best for the team—a tired captain who is just going through the motions or a rested one able to help in winning a very important game.

"AND THAT last game with the Braves in Atlanta was a very important one."

Indeed, it was. Mays' defensive play in that game was a vital factor in the victory. He made six putouts, one a one-handed catch on the warning track in front of the centerfield fence. Mays and the other Giant outfielders had a very busy day forestalling a four-game series sweep by the Braves.

"I COULDN'T have played in that fourth game if I had played in both games of the doubleheader," said Mays. "It might have been the popular thing to do. But it wouldn't have been the right thing—for me or for the team."

Southern Marin Ponies Beaten

The Southern Marin Pony All-Stars lost their opening game in the sectional tournament going on at McDowell Park in Petaluma.

The Marin lads fell to the pitching of Petaluma's Mike Dettling, 4-0, Tuesday. Since it is a double-elimination tourney, the Marin nine now has its back to the wall.

Dettling struck out 16 batters and gave up only three singles, pitcher-first baseman Elliott Hardy getting two of them and second baseman Charles Shiflett the other.

Boy's Club Director To Arrive Aug. 10

Harold I. Jackson, executive director of the Boy's Club of Southern Marin, who was expected to start work on Aug. 1, is now expected to arrive Aug. 10, Richard N. Bale, co-founder of the club, said yesterday.

Jackson left his home in New York Sunday, driving west with his family. He is to stop a couple of days in Kansas City to visit relatives, then reach the Bay Area Aug. 10. The clubhouse, the former housing authority maintenance building in Marin City, is now being remodeled.

Hamilton Golfer Third In Tourney

Despite three par 71's fired during the second round of the annual Fourth Air Force Golf Tournament at Peacock Gap Country Club yesterday, Tom Minger of Othello Air Force Station, Wash. remained in the lead in the open division with 72 and two-round total 144.

Lt. Col. Thomas White of Hamilton Air Force Base shot a 74 for a 147 total, good for third place.

In the senior division, Col. John Hardy of HAFB is second with 150, followed closely by Col. Len Scannell, also of Hamilton, 151. Third round play was scheduled for today.

Four-Year Pact May Be Record

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Quarterback John Brodie was happily back with the San Francisco 49ers today after signing what probably rates as one of the most lucrative contracts in sports history.

Nobody would divulge details of the four-year pact, but it apparently included a mammoth chunk of cash from Houston in addition to the $50,000 annual stipend Brodie had sought from the Prospectors. Some experts figured the four-year deal reached as high as $1 million.

Houston reportedly had offered Brodie a $750,000 contract for three years if he would play out his option in 1966 and then join the Oilers in 1967. But the Oilers had withdrawn the offer when the two leagues merged.

Brodie promptly hired an attorney, John Elliott Cook of San Francisco and threatened a lawsuit, which could have become a complex legal tangle involving triple damages and anti-trust charges.

In his remarks yesterday, Brodie said he was happy with the contract, gave Cook much of the credit, and said he hoped to be with the 49ers for a long time.

When asked about the Houston situation, Brodie simply grinned and said "I've signed my contract here." Presumably, he meant that the Houston situation was settled to his satisfaction.

Brodie, 31, had his greatest year in 1965 as he combined a new-found maturity and an improved group of receivers to click on 242 of 391 passes for 3,112 yards, 30 touchdowns and a 61.9 per cent average. All five of these figures led the National Football League.

"When I feel John is ready to play, I will use him," said 49er head coach Jack Christiansen.

Brodie will work out with the team for the first time today. He said his weight was not a problem and said "I've never had any trouble with my arm, except when it was broken. I expect to get in shape pretty soon."

Big Day For Brink In Marin Hardcourt

It was a big day for Barry Brink in the Marin County Junior Harcourt Tennis Championships.

Brink, the fast improving tennis player from Mill Valley, upset top-seeded Bruce Kellock 6-2, 8-6 in Boys 16 action and won over Steve Simmons, 6-4, 6-3, in Boys 18, the double wins highlighting yesterday's play at the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

He was to go against Mark Vance of San Anselmo in one of today's highlight matches in Boys 18. Vance won 6-2, 6-4 over Phil Barlett yesterday. The San Anselmo youth, top prep player in the Marin Athletic League last season, is top-seeded among the 18-year-olds.

Muffet Hemingway of Mill Valley, No. 1 seed in Girls 18, was upset by Connie Roos, 6-3, 6-8, 7-5 in the top match yesterday.

In other action involving Marin County youngsters:

San Rafael, Fairfax Win In Tourney

San Rafael whipped Central Marin 3-2 in seniors play and Fairfax won a thrilling 2-1 minor league game from Calistoga last night in the San Anselmo Boys Baseball Tournament at Memorial Park.

The San Rafael nine won its second straight game, this time behind the five-hit, nine-strikeout pitching of Jerry Goodrick. Three of San Rafael's four hits were home runs by Rafael Gallardo, Dennis Taylor and Ken Lazzarini. Central Marin pitchers gave up nine walks to help the winners. Charlie Flynn and Jim Peters each had two hits for Central Marin.

Fairfax won its seven-inning game on a bases loaded walk to Jim Simon in the extra inning. Simon then came in to relieve in the bottom of the inning and struck out the last Calistoga batter with the bases loaded. Fairfax now goes against San Anselmo in Sunday's finals.

'Star' Backs May Only Be Decoys

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — With six exceptional runners ready as shock troops, the College All-Stars seem to be preparing for an infantry attack against the Green Bay Packers tomorrow night.

But not even the pros have been very successful on the ground against the Packers, the National Football League champions, and the running strength of the All-Stars may prove to be just a diversionary attempt.

Short passes by Alabama's Steve Sloan, Missouri's Gary Lane and Tulsa's Bill Anderson, the nation's leading aerialist last season, may provide the main tonic for the upset wanted by head Coach John Sauer.

And, too, anything past midfield seems to be field goal range for side-foot kicker Charles Gogolak of Princeton. His boots could make a difference, just like the two field goals by Bob Jencks that nudged the collegians to their last victory in the series—20-17 over the Packers in 1963.

The football classic in Soldier Field will be televised by ABC. The expected arena crowd is 65,000. The pros hold a 21-9-1 edge in the rivalry. The Packers rule a 13-15 point favorite.

Donny Anderson of Texas Tech and Jim Grabowski of Illinois, who have been signed by the Packers for a total reportedly more than $900,000, are among the All-Stars big guns.

The Packers arrive today and will have a night limbering up drill in Soldier Field.

"It's easier to prepare for a game like this than it is in league play because what you don't know never bothers you," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "As for defense, we'll use the same we use all the time. The entire squad is healthy."

Top U.S. Skier Fractures Leg

Othmar Schneider, an official in charge of preparing the course, said one of Kidds' skis caught an edge after his descent from the 2,606-meter course. A doctor said the 23-year-old athlete had broken two bones in the right ankle.

Kidd, a University of Colorado sophomore, was recovering from surgery on his left ankle.

Bob Beattie, the Americans' coach, said Kidd had his goggles jarred when he landed and was unable to see.

"This is a very big blow for the hopes of our team," said Beattie. Kidd was a silver medal winner in the Olympic slalom at Innsbruck, Austria in 1964. He had won several other major races in 1965 and earlier this year.

Beattie said that Jimmy Heuga, from Tahoe City, Calif., was now the main U.S. hope in the world competition which opens tomorrow. Heuga finished third in the slalom during the '64 Olympics.

Cassius Loafs In Workouts

The world heavyweight champion's preparations for Britain's Brian London have included shadow boxing, biffing the heavy bag and speedball — and sweating. There's been mighty little real boxing.

Clay lazily explained it this way:

"With all my experience, fighting for so many years, it is now just another job.

"It was exciting when I won the title. But now it's the challengers who get the fun.

"Anyway, I'm saving myself for Mildenberger."

Clay is due to meet Germany's Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Sept. 10.

Clay said he isn't at his peak now.

"I wasn't at my peak when I beat Henry Cooper last May. I have never been at my peak. I could always work a little harder, be a little trimmer, faster and tighter if I chose. But it takes too much out of you if you fight as often as I do."

This pronouncement is unlikely to shorten the current odds of 6-1 against London.

Clay looks bored — but also fit and sharp.

Old fight hands figured that the champion is making sure he doesn't over-train and lose form, especially with the Mildenberger contest looming.

Veale And Pirates Handcuff Dodgers

Cincinnati Continues Hot Streak

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Veale has a pain in the back. And he's giving the Dodgers one in the neck.

Los Angeles has faced the big Pirate pitcher twice this season and has collected a grand total of one unearned run, 12 hits and two walks off him. In beating the Dodgers 3-1 last night, Veale struck out 11, just as he did when he beat them back in May.

It was Veale's first game in more than two weeks and the first complete game by a Pirate pitcher in 16 attempts. Veale's back, the cause of his disappearance from Manager Harry Walker's starting rotation, still bothered him a little yesterday, he said, particularly when he ran or bent down to field a grounder.

But when he pitched, the pain was inflicted mainly on the Dodgers. Veale said he felt "real strong all the way" and now he wants to throw every three or four games for the rest of the season.

Los Angeles, in the meantime, would like to forget all about Veale, the Pirates and the whole city of Pittsburgh. When the current series between the two pennant contenders began, the Dodgers were leading the league.

Now they're in third place, a game behind the Pirates and two in back of the league-leading Giants, who have been fattening up on the Mets.

San Francisco took its third straight from New York by an 11-1 score. In other National League games, Philadelphia beat Houston 7-6, Atlanta blanked Chicago 2-0, and Cincinnati won a 16-inning marathon over St. Louis 3-1.

Roberto Clemente's two-run homer in the first inning gave Veale all the room he needed to put down the Dodgers. His earned-run average is now a sprightly 2.64, best on the club, as are his 12 victories, 156 strikeouts and nine complete games.

John Callison, who says he owes it all to his new glasses, rapped out four hits and Bill White contributed a grand-slammer as the Phillies made their way past Houston. Larry Jackson won his 11th game of the season and the Phils captured their sixth in a row.

Ken Johnson threw a five-hitter at Chicago and Felipe Alou scored both runs in Atlanta's victory. Johnson struck out 10 and allowed only one Cub as far as second base.

Pete Rose's sacrifice fly marked the beginning of the end of the overtime contest in St. Louis as he drove in Mel Queen running for Gordy Coleman, who had singled. A moment later, Dick Simpson hit a single scoring Tommy Harper, who had bunted safely.

LBJ SEES WASHINGTON LOSE

Unitas Hot, Colts Romp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baltimore's John Unitas has shown President Johnson, the Washington Redskins and 45,805 National Football League fans he's ready for the 1966 season. But the Colt quarterback doesn't know yet if his knee is.

"My leg feels fine...real fine," said Unitas last night after Baltimore routed the Redskins 35-0 in a pre-season exhibition game. "I had no problems at all with it.

"But I don't know how sound it is. I wasn't flattened. As a matter of fact, I don't remember having a hand laid on me."

Colt Coach Don Shula agreed with Unitas' assessment.

"He had a good night . . . he ran the club well," Shula said. "But we didn't find out a damn thing about his leg because John didn't get hit."

Unitas' right knee was injured against the Chicago Bears last Dec. 5 and he underwent surgery during the winter to repair the damaged ligaments and cartilage.

A healthy Unitas spells trouble for the rest of the NFL's Western Conference teams.

He played only a little more than a quarter last night but he had 10 pass completions in 12 attempts for 80 yards and two touchdowns. His touchdown passes were to Al Snyder for four yards and to Jimmy Orr for nine.

Shula also had praise for quarterback Gary Cuozzo, also injured last season, and Tom Matte, a halfback who proved to be something of a sensation in running the team at the end of last season.

"We planned to give Unitas a half and Cuozzo a half," Shula said. "But this game gave us a chance to see everyone.

"Gary did a real good job and we were kidding Tom about practicing plays during the game."

He explained that Matte had not quarterbacked the Colts at their Westminster, Md., training camp and ran the club during the final quarter last night similar to the way a quarterback would in a scrimmage.

Cuozzo hit on five of nine passes for 76 yards and one touchdown and Matte, one of two aerials for six yards. The Cuozzo touchdown was to Jerry Richardson for 34 yards, longest pass completion of the night.

Washington Coach Otto Graham, who made his professional coaching debut, was disappointed but not dismayed.

"We just made one continuous mistake," he said. "But we're not as bad as we looked. I know we're not that bad."

President Johnson was a surprise visitor to the ballgame. He entered the box of Redskins' President Edward Bennett Williams just after the start of the game and remained until about two minutes before the final gun.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said it was the first time a president, still in office, had seen an NFL football game in the league's 47-year history.

Good Salmon Fishing Near The Farallones Or South Of 'Gate'

STEVENS

Betty Urbais of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop called Tuesday morning to report some pretty fair salmon fishing.

"The boat, 'Chief,' with skipper Hans Anderson, had 16 salmon for eight rods; fish ran to 20 pounds and were caught about 6 miles east of the Farallones. The 'New Merimac' skippered by Taylor McGee also netted 16 salmon to 28 pounds. Capt. Ray Hansen of the 'Suzybelle' brought in limits for his passengers," reported Betty, then remarked that the weather was overcast over the weekend but the water was flat. Betty also said she heard that some good fishing was had on Monday by boats working the water off the beaches south of the Gate.

BETTY HEARD correctly. I learned from Lee Anderson's place in Oakland that one of the skippers working from Lee's drove his boat south of the Gate and did a fine job of netting 27 salmon to 10 pounds and, in addition, boated 10 stripers to 20 pounds. The "Sea Horse" accounted for 10 salmon to 24 pounds southeast of the Farallones; the "Duke No. 2" limited out live bait fishing in Racoon Straight, and the "R.S.P." took seven limits to 24 pounds trolling the Racoon Strait. So the action for salmon seems to be either the Farallones or south of the Gate off the beaches.

THE LATE EVENING trolling for stripers continues good to excellent in the general area off Port Costa and the upper Suisun Bay.

Talking to Suetta Lagrone of Dillon's Point on the Carquinez Strait, I was pleased to learn that the several groups and individuals who tried either plug casting or bait fishing (pile worms and blood worms best baits) made the grade. Some stripers were landed in the early morning, but the fast action over the weekend and on Monday was had by the sundowners. "Just lots of fish were caught, Steve," said Suetta. "One group had bass from five to 26 pounds."

ONE GROUP from South County, apparently didn't follow directions on how to get to Dillon's Point, or maybe I wasn't explicit enough. This group drove miles past where they should have turned to the right. Remember, you turn off Highway 40 two miles from the Carquinez Bridge onto the freeway toward Benecia. Watch your speedometer and when it registers two miles from Highway 40, turn right past the former city dump (the dump is no longer active, but if you follow your nose you will know you are on the right road). Drive one mile on the dirt road to the stone house on the hill. Stop and wait for Suetta or Lou Lagrone to come out of the house. I hope you have the route fixed now, and good fishing with bait or a plug.

APPARENTLY THE hot weather has slowed down black bass fishing in both Clear Lake and Lake Berryessa. Old-timers trolling deep have gotten a few blackies in the deep water, but the over-all picture is far from rosy for bass, crappies and blue gills at both lakes. The continued warm weather has hampered trout fishing in most of the popular areas.

Terra Linda A.C., 666 Eagles Win

Dick Johnson hit a home run and Roger Scotsmith slammed a bases loaded triple to lead the Terra Linda AC to an 18-4 triumph over Native Sons yesterday in San Rafael Recreation Softball action. John DeRosa had a homer for Native Sons.

In the otehr Albert Park game, Jim Bryan tossed a two-hitter against Presidio as his 666 Eagles team won, 4-0.

Rich Reese Leads Pacific Coast Batters At .355

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Denver's Rich Reese leads Pacific Coast League hitters with a .355 average in games through last Sunday, according to latest official figures.

Hawaii's Hank Allen is the leader in hits with 140 and total bases with 228. Walt Williams of Tulsa has cracked 39 doubles, Gerry Kushner of Hawaii has belted 20 homers, and Dick Kenworthy of Indianapolis has knocked in 78 runs.

Marin Darts League Now Being Formed

There is a move on to start a Marin County Darts League.

Spearheading the drive are Brian Coy, Northern California dart-throwing champ, of the London Arms bar in San Anselmo, and John C. Colver, secretary of the newly formed Marin County Darts Assn.

Competition will be between bars throughout Marin County.

Sausalito Little Leaguers Carry Big Batting Marks

By BOBBIE HARVEY

The Sausalito Little League All-Star team, bound for Sebastopol tomorrow to meet Concord American League in its opener in the Sectional Tournament, will count most heavily on five youngsters to spearhead a balanced attack.

The game, to start at 6 p.m., will be broadcast live from Sebastopol's Ive's Memorial Park on KTIM.

The Sausalito youngsters earned their berth in the tourney by whipping the Novato stars in the Marin County Little League District Tournament finale last Saturday, 4-2, and should prove worthy representatives of Marin County as Novato won the state championship last season, which, right now of course, is more than a stone's throw away.

According to Sausalito All-Star manager George Westin, Russell Knudsen, a rightfielder, Clifford Hall, pitcher-first baseman, Lawrence Dora, pitcher-shortstop, Alton Hardy, utility man, and John Johnson, utility man, are the five stars expected to spearhead the 14-player Richardson Bay Elementary School contingent.

In all-star competition, Knudsen and Dora are both batting at a sizzling .636 clip; Hardy, who mostly works behind the plate but also pitches and plays short, is hitting .333, and Hall, a tall southpaw (the winning pitcher in the district championship game), has made his presence felt on both the mound and at the plate. He is leading the team with a whopping .727 batting mark.

Other team members — and every little squirt helps — are Paul Medeiros, a second baseman; Gary Knife, centerfielder; Leevester Hall, third baseman; Bill Rudolph, leftfielder; Eddie Sibbaluca, William Dovall and Kevin Bell, all utility men. And each game they play is "theirs to win or lose," Westin said.

The sectional tournament opens today at 6 p.m. when Petaluma American takes on Town and Country of Carmichael. The winners of the two games meet Saturday at 6 p.m. for the sectional championship.

Next on tap in the world-wide Little League bonanza are the divisionals in Novato, regionals in San Lorenzo, and the World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Twins' Boswell Is A.L.'s Answer To Sandy Koufax

'PANCAKE' PALMER HAS SOURED ON FLAPJACKS

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pitcher Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles, who had been winning every time he ate pancakes for breakfast, has soured on flapjacks.

The Cleveland Indians shook Palmer's faith in the superstition last night by smashing seven hits and scoring six runs in the four innings he pitched. Palmer had eaten nine pancakes for breakfast.

The 20-year-old right-hander, now 12-5, had lost only one game since switching from cereal to pancakes for breakfast.

He had won four straight and eight of his last nine games before last night.

"I ate too many pancakes maybe.

"The waitress brought me six of those thin, dollar size ones. Then she came back with three more regular-size pancakes. She said she thought the six little ones weren't going to be enough.

"So I ate nine pancakes in all. Last time I pitched I only ate four and get them out.

Seventh Straight Win For Minnesota Hurler

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boswell fired a four-hitter against Boston last night for his seventh straight victory and added 10 strikeouts to his American League lead as the Twins battered the Red Sox 7-2.

The 21-year-old pitching prodigy has been the A.L.'s answer to Koufax, Los Angeles' fabulous left-hander, over the past two months — and he's actually been a couple of steps ahead of the Dodger ace in recent weeks.

Before June 1, however, Boswell's major contributions to the Twins were his hilarious imitations of the animal and bird kingdoms. "Come on, Boswell, feed the chickens for us," a teammate would command, and the young right-hander would protest in vain before dusting off his chicken-feeding routine.

His bird-calls were a big hit, too, and his squeaking barn door always was in demand, but the strapping Baltimore native was a troubled pitcher. He was the clubhouse comedian — and his won-lost record was 0-4.

GOOFY REPUTATION

"I don't want that goofy reputation," he said. "I'm going to be serious this year."

Then he went out and proved it. Since June 1 he has won 11 of 12 decisions. Koufax, 9-1 on June 1, has been 8-4 since then. Boswell has won his last six starts; Koufax has won two of his last six.

Sandy's earned run average of 1.64 is far superior to Boswell's 3.00 mark, but the Minnesota fireballer will take the victories any way he can get them.

"I want to win," he says. "I don't care if it's 9-8, 8-6 or 1-0."

Boswell's 10 strikeouts against the Red Sox increased his season figure to 158. Koufax, with 210 strikeouts, is the only pitcher in the majors ahead of him.

Elsewhere last night, the New York Yankees ended a five-game tailspin by trimming California 9-0 on Mel Sottlemyre's two-hitter; the Cleveland Indians overcame five Baltimore homers for a 9-6 victory over the league leaders; Washington edged Kansas City 4-3 and Detroit split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the opener 3-1 before bowing 6-3.

Boswell, who had pitched a one-hitter against Baltimore in his previous start last Saturday, gave up bases-empty homers to Bostons' Carl Yastrzemski and Don Demeter but was in control all the way.

The Twins wrapped it up with a four-run burst in the fifth inning, Earl Battey capping the rally with a two-run double.

Stottlemyre scattered two singles and belted a homer as the Yankees beat Dean Chance for the fourth time this season. Stottlemyre, now 10-12, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris each drove in two runs.

Max Alvis' bases-loaded triple and Fred Whitfield's two-run homer led Cleveland past the Orioles, who wasted two homers each by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell and another by Sam Bowens. Robinson's pair boosted his league-leading total to 33.

Brother-Sister Act In Swimming

Triple-winner Tacy Dunham and her younger brother, Troy, winner of four events, stole the spotlight for the Marin Pirates Swim Team Tuesday in a dual meet with the visiting Santa Rosa Neptunes Class B Swim Team.

Miss Dunham, 13-14 age group, won the 100 fly, 100 free and 200-yard individual medley while Troy, 9-10 division, notched first in the 50-yard back, 100 and 200-yard free, and the 200 individual medley.

Other first placers for the Marin team were double-winner Scott Warner, Claudia Warner, Roberta Shister, Liz Locati and Ned Johnson.

KIDS GET IN SOME FREE BOWLNG

Youngsters 8 to 12 are getting in some free bowling and lessons at Nave Lanes in Ignacio, part of a nationwide program of physical fitness. The program will continue through next week, with about 100 youngsters participating. Nave Lanes was one of 400 bowling establishments chosen throughout the United States. Most of the cost is to Nave Lanes, with help from the federal government and various bowling manufacturers.

Raiders Lose Vet Guard Nisby For Three Months

SANTA ROSA (AP)—Oakland Raider coaches today are studying films of their 26-17 loss to Houston, looking for mistakes and for clues on the performances of the many rookies they played.

Coach John Rauch said several rookies played extremely well.

"David Daniels defensive tackle from Florida A&M certainly showed me a lot of aggressiveness and he made one real good open field tackle on a kickoff," Rauch said.

Guard John Nisby will be lost for at least three months because of a tear in the cord of his right heel during the Houston game Tuesday. Nisby, 29, underwent surgery at Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

Man Drives Over Wall, Into Bay

A visiting Mexico City man drove over the sea wall and into the bay yesterday in Sausalito his car ending up on its side next to the city's renowned Sea Lion sculpture.

Faure, driving northbound on Bridgeway, first struck the rear of a Greyhound Bus, also Northbound, then careened into the bay. His 1963 Volkswagen Sedan was demolished; the bus received damage to the left rear body.

Sausalito firemen gave Faure first aid for a cut on his nose. He refused to allow an ambulance to take him to a hospital.

Airman Killed On Matterhorn

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — An American airman fell to his death on the Matterhorn yesterday, and at least nine climbers from Germany and Japan were reported missing today in a snowstorm on Mont Blanc. Two other climbers died on Mont Blanc Wednesday.

Swiss police said Joseph Gordon St. Germain of Monson, Mass., fell more than 1,000 feet while trying to climb the 14,880-foot Matterhorn. The soldier was stationed at the U.S. air base in Sembach, Germany.

Police said a British climber was killed on Mont Blanc yesterday and a group of three Britons and two Czechs left a companion dead of exhaustion at the summit.

Madera Crash Fatal To Former Marin Man

Frank Joseph Mendez, 35, died instantly when his car, with his wife at the wheel, left the road and hit the tree just north of Madera. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Jensen of Sausalito, said her daughter, Lucie Marie Mendez, fell asleep at the wheel.

Mendez was born in Mill Valley and lived there until he moved to Chatsworth, Los Angeles County, a year ago.

Mrs. Mendez suffered multiple cuts and bruises. Her son, 22-month-old James Anthony Mendez, suffered a fractured skull. Both were transferred to Marin General Hospital yesterday, where the mother was reported in fair condition and the son was in good condition today.

The couple's other two children, Susan Marie Mendez and Joseph Mendez, were staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mendez of Walnut Creek, at the time of the accident.

Mendez, a graduate of Tamalpais High School and the University of San Francisco, was field representative for the Addison Wesley Publishing Co. of Palo Alto. Surviving, besides his wife, three children and parents are two sisters, Mrs. Manolita Smith of Moraga and Mrs. David Regal of San Francisco.

Funeral for Mendez will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Jail, Hospital Results Of Row

A disturbance in a Corte Madera apartment house last night ended with one man in jail and his roommate in the hospital, police reported.

Officers were called to 45 Tamal Vista Boulevard by apartment house manager Eugene F. Grant, who complained of noise coming from Apartment 733. While they were there, an ambulance arrived and took Roy Charles Vehlow, 49, one of the apartment occupants, to Marin General Hospital. Vehlow said his roommate, Thomas J. Loveless, 32, had struck him and knocked him down.

Grant placed Loveless under citizen's arrest for disturbing the peace and Loveless was taken to county jail. Vehlow was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead and broken ribs.

Western Weekend Has Director

Novato's annual Western Weekend got a permanent executive director Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ann Trumbull was named to the post by Western Weekend directors. Her salary will be $1,500 per year, or one third of all new revenues which she brings to the celebration, whichever is greater.

A permanent headquarters will be opened soon so all organizations and participants may go to one place for information.

Mrs. Trumbull said she has plans for making something "really big and good," out of the celebration.

Girl Breaks Ankle, In Good Condition

Miss Grant, of 1711 Mar East Street, is in good condition today in Marin General Hospital. The Tiburon sheriff's substation reported that she was running downhill behind some boys when she fell.

Americans Hurt In Bomb Attack

MANILA (AP) — Eleven Americans were wounded early today when a hand grenade was thrown at the mayor of Olongapo, a town adjoining the huge U.S. Subic Bay naval base.

The wounded, including a Navy chaplain, were helping fight a fire in a hotel. The grenade, aimed at Olongapo Mayor James Gordon, exploded among the firefighters and cut down nearly two dozen of them.

The U.S. Embassy said none of the Americans was badly injured.

Today is Thursday, Aug. 4, the 216th day of 1966 with 149 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and its last quarter; the morning stars are Mars, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

English poet Percy Shelley was born on this day in 1792.

On this day in history:

In 1735, freedom of the press was established when John Peter Zenger, publisher of a New York City newspaper, was acquitted on libel charges.

In 1914, England declared war on Germany and the United States announced its neutrality.

In 1916, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark for $25 million.

In 1955 Red China released 11 U.S. Air Force fliers that had been held for more than two and one half years. The pilots were captured during the Korean War.

A thought for the day—English writer Samuel Butler said: "To live is like love, all reason is against it, and all healthy instinct for it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

One Man's Mede Is Another's Persian, Dealing With Trumps

Most bridge players follow the old rule of drawing trumps immediately under the impression that this is as unchangeable as the laws of the ancient Medes and Persians.

Opening lead — ♣ J

South won the first trick with the king of clubs and followed the old rule by drawing trumps at once.

Then he led a diamond to dummy's king.

ACE BACK

South got back with the ace of clubs to lead another diamond. West ducked again, and dummy's queen won.

It didn't.

West shifted to a spade, and the finesse lost to the king.

South was down one — all because he had followed an old rule blindly.

SMALL RISK

South should lead the six of diamonds at the second trick.

There is only a very small risk that a defender can get a quick ruff.

It is far more likely that declarer will be allowed to win the first trick in dummy with the king.

Now South can afford to draw three rounds of trumps.

He is in position to lead a second diamond to dummy's queen.

He gets back with the ace of clubs to lead a third diamond, and West must take the ace.

There is no further problem.

The trouble with drawing trumps immediately is that this removes an easy way of getting from the dummy to the South hand.

Do your planning before you draw trumps because it may turn out that you don't want to draw the trumps after all.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♦ A 10 9 8
♣ J 10 9 6 2.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have only five points in high cards, and no points for distribution in support of spades.

If partner had opened with one club or one diamond you would raise his suit to two because then you would count two points for the doubletons.

Market Weathers Rebuke From White House On Steel

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today after weathering a White House rebuke to the steel companies which boosted steel prices. Trading was moderately active.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.2 million shares compared with 6.22 million Wednesday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point or more were scattered throughout many sections of the list.

The rising market was given an extra spur when U.S. Steel, the biggest steel producer, announced it was going along with the price increases. Some steels were up 2 points or more when the market was at its peak, but these gains were shaved.

Sanders Associates and Continental Oil rose more than 2 each. Port Earnings Highest Ever

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Port of San Francisco has reported its 1965-66 fiscal year earnings were the highest in its 103-year history.

Director Rae F. Watts said the port had a surplus of $1,835,846 on total operating revenues of $9,216,541. The surplus was $54,152 above last year's record earnings.

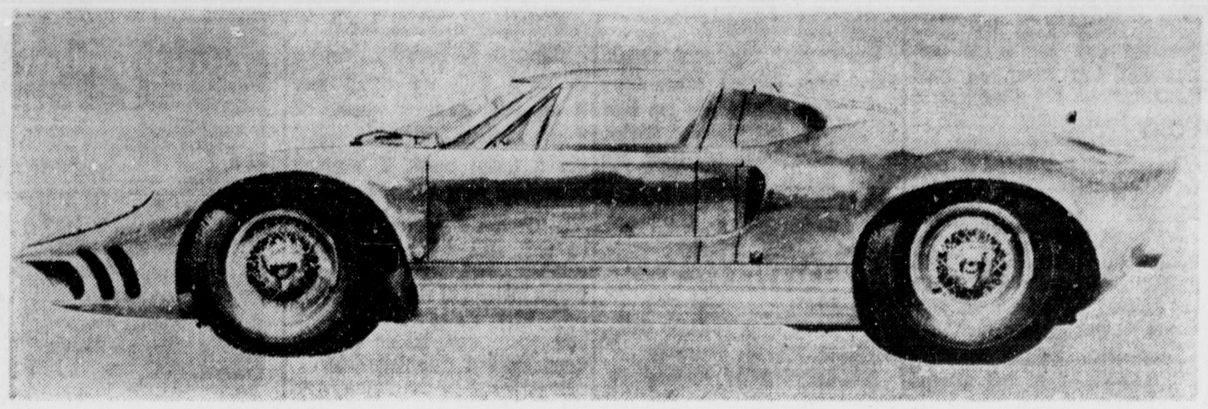
Watts said the money would go into the Port Authority's harbor construction fund to help pay for the new nine-berth Army St. Terminal, the Pier 27 Terminal and other harbor improvements.

Butte Shares Listing Approved

OAKLAND—Buttes Gas and Oil Co.'s 2,758,921 outstanding common shares have been approved for original listing on the American Stock Exchange by the exchange's board of governors.

Buttes Gas and Oil is an exploration and production company, with producing gas and oil wells principally in California and Montana.

The Oakland - based company also is a producer of mercury and holds extensive mineral rights in the Far Western states.



NEW AMERICAN SPORTS CAR

The Valkyrie, under production in Sunnyvale by Fiberfab-Velocidad, Inc., has a fiberglass body, a projected top speed of 180 miles per hour and a price tag of $10,000. The car will use a 427-cubic inch rear-mounted Chevrolet Porcupine engine. Speed tests of prototype models are scheduled for late this month, with the first Valkyrie available for delivery in December.

New Oil Discovery Listed In Alaska

LOS ANGELES — Union Oil Co. of California and Marthon Oil Co. have announced an apparent oil discovery in the lower Cook inlet of Alaska, about 60 miles southwest of Anchorage.

Their joint well, Kustatan No. 1-A—with a total depth of 11,130 feet—has cored and logged approximately 300 feet of what appears to be oil sands.

Bond Issue Sought

SAN FRANCISCO—A Bank of America underwriting group has bought the $4,750,000 bond issue of the Richmond Unified School District, Contra Costa County. Net interest to the district was 4.2734 per cent.

MILWAUKEE— A record 1,035,284 barrels of beer were sold by the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co. in July, the first million barrel month in its history.

Berkeley Bank Agrees To Sell

OAKLAND—The board of directors of National Bank of Berkeley has announced that, in the interest of providing full banking services for its customers and broadening its capability, it had entered into an agreement for the sale of its assets and business to Central Valley National Bank.

Michael G. Rafton, chairman of the board and president of Central Valley National Bank, confirmed that its board of directors today approved the purchase and stated:

"Subject to the approval of the comptroller of currency, it is anticipated that National Bank of Berkeley may continue to operate under its own identity.

"This will be the start of the Central Banking System, wherein local banks can be members and gain the advantages of computer technology and the specialized skills available through chain banking and yet retain the close personal identity with their local communities.

"Under this program, the National Bank of Berkeley will continue to operate through its present board of directors and management staff.

Cadillac Sets Daily Selling Rate Record

DETROIT — Delivering new cars at an unprecedented level, Cadillac dealers established an all time new car daily selling rate for July, according to Lee N. Mays, division general sales manager. Domestic deliveries at the daily selling rate of 559 cracked the former record of 554 set in July last year.

For the month, new car sales totalled 13,975, compared to the record 14,134 domestic deliveries of July 1965 which included one more selling day.

Chrysler Retail Sales Announced

DETROIT — Retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in the final 10 day sales period of July were 42,952 units, a daily rate of 4,772 units.

For the month of July, retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars were 107,219 units, down 8 per cent from the 117,022 sold in July last year. However, there were 26 sales days in July last year and only 25 this year.

Mexican Contract For Largest Generator To Sausalito Firm

A $300,000 contract has been awarded A. G. Schoonmaker, Inc., Sausalito, by the Mexican government to construct the world's largest diesel generator set on wheels.

The 3,600-horsepower, 3,100-kilovolt-ampere unit will be housed in an aluminum trailer 46 feet long with 20 wheels on three axles — all of this weighing about 60 tons. Schoonmaker's regular 800-kilowatt mobile units are fitted in 35-foot vans and weigh about 16.5 tons (and will supply enough power for an entire city the size of Sausalito) so you can get some idea of the size of the special job.

The big generator will be used to provide emergency power wherever it may be required throughout all of Mexico — if it can be towed there.

A NEW STORE which should be open about Aug. 25 is the Hour Glass, 226 Strawberry Town and Country Village. Exact date depends upon the arrival of stocks.

A women's shop handling foundations and similar garments, it will be located next to the rear entrance of Hick'ry Pit of Marin. Owner Mrs. Betty J. Brenegan of San Rafael has been in this type of business many years, but this is her first venture alone. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. throughout the week except Sundays. Friday evening hours will probably be observed.

ANOTHER Speedee Seven-11 Food Store is to open in Ken Niles' new building now under construction at 1901 Bridgeway, Sausalito. Completion should be sometime in October. The store is franchised by Albert and

Mrs. Jackson

Bauer

NEW APPOINTMENTS at Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. have made Mrs. Cora Jackson of San Rafael an assistant secretary at the Mill Valley office, and Harold (Gary) Bauer of Mill Valley an assistant vice president at the main office in San Rafael. Bauer has been with Northwestern's loan department since 1962. Mrs. Jackson rejoined the company last year on her return from Oregon. Previously she had worked at the old A Street office.

PACIFIC CARPET CO. is scheduled to open a store in the Northgate Shopping Center, but no date has been projected.

The parent firm, Prestige Carpet of Santa Clara, has several branch stores in the Bay Area and has a program of opening several more.

HANS GUENTHER VON DALLWITZ of San Anselmo has been appointed credit officer at Wells Fargo Bank's Sonoma office. A native of Germany, he joined the bank last year with 10 years business experience and recently completed its management training program.

REMAINING BLOCK of 175 acres in the Temelec Retirement Community in Sonoma has been purchased by a group headed by Albert F. Pfaff of Equitable Life Assurance Society and Eugene P. Gilsdorf of San Mateo.

Proposed for the property is a $600,000 convalescent hospital, a farmers market, medical-dental facility, a lagoon and bowling on the green layout. Acreage engineering is being done by Engineering Field Services which has an office in San Rafael. Leonard Fisher of San Rafael is architect for the hospital. Plans are also being made for 52 additional lots. Fox & Carskadon is now handling sales in Temelec's unit two where model homes have been constructed for Saddleback Homes of San Rafael by Nelson Bros. Builders. Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and Northwestern Savings and Loan, San Rafael, are participating in the financing of the Nelson homes.

SUMMER SUFFERING

Allergy Season Here Until The First Frost

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — From now until the first frost, daily ragweed pollen counts will keep hay fever sufferers informed of the extent of their main allergy-producing source.

August is the month of hay fever holidays for those who can get away to such places as Presque Isle, Maine; Sun Valley, Idaho; Estes Park, Colo.; Monterey, Calif.; Laconia, N.H., and Grand Teton National Park, Wyo., where there is little or none of the offending pollen.

There are about 30 million allergy sufferers in the U.S., including the one in 20 persons with hay fever. At least 37,000 workers are absent on a typical working day because of either hay fever or asthma, but science is finding ways to control these and other allergic diseases.

Eradication of even one weed is impossible, says the Allergy Foundation of America, because the seeds remain in the earth for long periods of time and begin to grow again when the earth is dug up for building homes and highways.

Immunizing injections should have been started some time ago but it is still not too late to visit an allergist for advice on specific problems. Here are some things to avoid in addition to ragweed if you have hay fever, which is more accurately named allergic rhinitis:

1. Chlorinated swimming pools.
2. Fumes, such as fresh paint, perfume, smoke, chemicals.
3. Musty, dusty atmosphere.
4. Strong drafts — including country motoring.
5. Over-eating and heavy foods.
6. Strenuous physical exertion, over-fatigue and late hours.

Things to do include: sleeping in room with air conditioner if possible, limiting alcohol if it affects your symptoms, wearing a nasal mask if working in contact with fumes or musty atmosphere, changing to a dry bathing suit after swimming, using cooked fruit and vegetables instead of raw ones, using cold compresses to the eyes and nose, and taking precautions against catching cold.

Dinosaur National Monument in Utah contains the most unusual dinosaurian and reptilian fossils in the world. Many types have not been found elsewhere.
